Dr. Harry Everett Dies At 73

Leading Midwest Surgeon Practiced Here Many Years

Dr. Harry H. Everett, a member of a pioneer Lincoln family, for years one of the midwest's most widely known surgeons, died at Bryan Memorial hospital at 6:45 Wednesday morning after an extended illness.

Dr. Everett, who was 73 years of age, is survived by his wife, Mrs. Blanche Hargreaves Everett, two daughters, Mrs. Jane Everett Still, of Pacific Grove, Calif., and Mrs. Betty Bosse, of Eugene, Ore., and a son, Dr. H. H. Everett, jr., of Milwaukee, and four grandchildren, Gretchen and Martha Jane Bosse and Tod and Pamela Everett.

He was born at Troy Grove, Ill., Sept. 5, 1875, the son of Dr. Milton H. Everett, one of the pioneer physicians of early Lincoln.

He was a graduate of the University of Nebraska in the class of 1897, continued his studies at Northwestern university where he received his master's degree, took post-graduate work at the post graduate school of John Hopkins university, and then went abroad to complete his medical education at the University of Vienna, Austria, and the University of Jena in Germany.

Associated With Sanitarium.

In taking up active practice he was first associated with his father, the late M. H. Everett, and his two brothers, the late Oliver and Dr. Ernest Everett, at the Lincoln Sanitarium where Dr. Harry served as chief surgeon. He was an instructor at the University of Nebraska, attending surgeon for many years at the Bryan Memorial hospital and St. Elizabeth hospital, and chief of staff of the Lincoln General hospital.

For years he served as surgeon for the Burlington railroad. He was director of the Woodmen Central Life Insurance company and the Woodmen Health and Accident company.

National Iris Society Head.

Dr. Everett was a man of wide and varied tastes. Keenly interested in horticulture he belonged to the American Iris society, of which he was president for several years, the British Iris society, the American Rose society, and the Missouri Valley association.

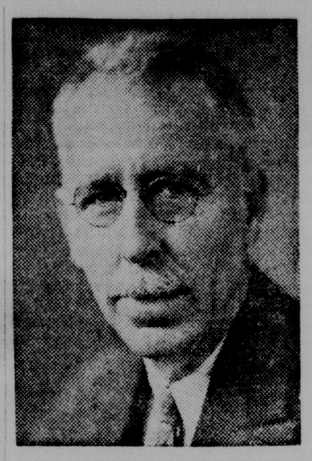

Honors came to him in his chosen profession. He belonged to the American College of Surgeons, was a fellow in the International College of Surgeons, and a member of the American Association of Railroad Surgeons. He also held membership in the Lancaster County Medical association and the state and national organizations.

Cornhusker Team Physician.

He was the first team physician of the Cornhuskers and for years he and Dr. Oliver Everett, who succeeded him as team physician, treated sick and injured players at the Lincoln Sanitarium without charge.

Dr. Everett was a member of Beta Theta Phi, Phi Rho Sigma, honorary medical fraternity, and Theta Nu Epsilon. He was a Mason, Shriner, a member of the Lincoln University and Country clubs, and the Round Table. The family home is at 2433 Woodscrest avenue.

Private funeral services will be held Friday, 11 a. m., at the home. Rev. David Gracey will officiate and cremation will follow.

Melting Scrap Price Drops To '47 Low

. . . "Iron Age" Reports

NEW YORK—(INS)—A sharp break in the price of heavy melting scrap to the lowest level since June, 1947, has highlighted developments in the steel industry this week.

This was reported today by the magazine Iron Age which noted that the decline of $3.75 a gross ton in the price of heavy melting scrap this week, was one of the sharpest drops in the present downward movement.

It said that the present price of $31.17 a gross ton for heavy melting scrap represents a slump of $11.83 a ton since the first of the year.

'VOLUNTARY HEALTH INSURANCE' BILL IS OFFERED IN SENATE

U. S. Government Would Help States Meet Costs Where Individuals Lack Funds To Pay

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Five senators today offered a new "voluntary health insurance bill" intended to make hospital and medical care available to all persons.

Sen. Hill (D-Ala), one of the sponsors, said the new plan, based on state and local controls, is a substitute for what he called a "compulsory system" advocated by President Truman and some members of congress.

The bill calls for the use of federal funds "to assist the states to survey, co-ordinate, supplement and strengthen their existing health resources."

Besides Hill, the measure is backed by Sens. O'Connor (D-Md), Withers (D-Ky), Aiken (R-Vt) and Morse (R-Ore).

700 Hospitals Being Built.

The Alabama senator said the bill is patterned on the present federal law for assisting states and regions in building hospitals. That act was sponsored in 1944 by Hill and Associate Justice Burton of the Supreme court, then a republican senator from Ohio.

Hill said states and communities now are building 700 hospitals under that plan and the voluntary health insurance bill "will perform the same service for financing hospital and medical care."

"We believe that the present system of medical care has been too valuable, too effective and too useful through the years, to throw it aside for a new system which might not work," Hill told a reporter, adding:

Present Systems Backed.

"A compulsory system of health insurance carries with it the danger of uprooting and destroying the entire system of medical practice in this country."

The new bill, Hill said, would be aimed at stimulating present systems of insured or pre-paid medical care. The federal government would help states pay costs where individuals were unable to do so.

—Rent Control Bill—

New Law May Hit Gougers

Crackdown On Black Marketeers Predicted: Ready For Signing

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Capitol Hill heard predictions today that the new rent control extender will set off a government crackdown on a rent "black market."

President Truman was expected to sign, in plenty of time the "home rule" legislation that continues rent controls for another 15 months.

Just two days before the present controls are set to die at midnight Thursday, congress late yesterday tossed the new compromise bill to the White House by overwhelming votes. Then:

No Big Increases.

1. Rep. Patman (D-Tex) said it will mean a "rollback of illegal rents," as well as increased rents on some properties where landlords are not now showing a profit. He said it will put an end to the rent "black market" that Tighe Woods, rent administrator, reported to be growing throughout the country.

2. House Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass) said in his opinion there won't be any big increases in rent for anyone, and most rents probably won't be increased at all.

3. Paul V. Betters, executive director of the U. S. Conference of Mayors, predicted no major city will drop rent controls under the "home rule" provisions of the bill, that allows states or localities to throw off the controls. (Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York has said he will not approve residential rent decontrol in that state without "clearest proof that controls are neither necessary nor desirable.")

Mr. Truman was described by friends who talked to him as "elated" over the legislation, although it falls short of what he asked. They said he regards it as an administration victory, and is sure to sign it. Rent controls are in force on 14,350,000 dwelling places. Mr. Truman wanted a two-year extension.

The senate approved the bill 78 to 11 and the house stamped on a 262 to 143 vote, after weeks of bitter debate.

Rep. O'Sullivan (D-Neb) voted with the majority when the house approved the compromise bill. Rep. Curtis (R-Neb) was listed as voting against the proposal and Rep. Miller (R-Neb) was paired against it. Rep. Stefan (R-Neb) was not listed as voting.

Sponsors called the legislation a "victory" for the tenant, while at

Government Buying Butter To Prop Price

. . . First Since Pre-War

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government is buying butter to bolster prices for the first time since before the war, the agriculture department said yesterday.

The department said 25,620 pounds of Grade A butter was bought at the support price of 59 cents a pound last week.

Arlington Farmer Seriously Injured

(Special to The Star)

FREMONT, Neb. — Gifford Peterson, 37-year-old Arlington farmer, remained in "fair" condition here today as a result of injuries received Tuesday in a buzz saw accident.

Peterson fell on the saw when a pile of wood on which he was standing gave way. He received a severe stomach cut. The accident happened on the Chris Peterson farm near here.

A Lenten Season Prayer

PREFERRING ONE ANOTHER

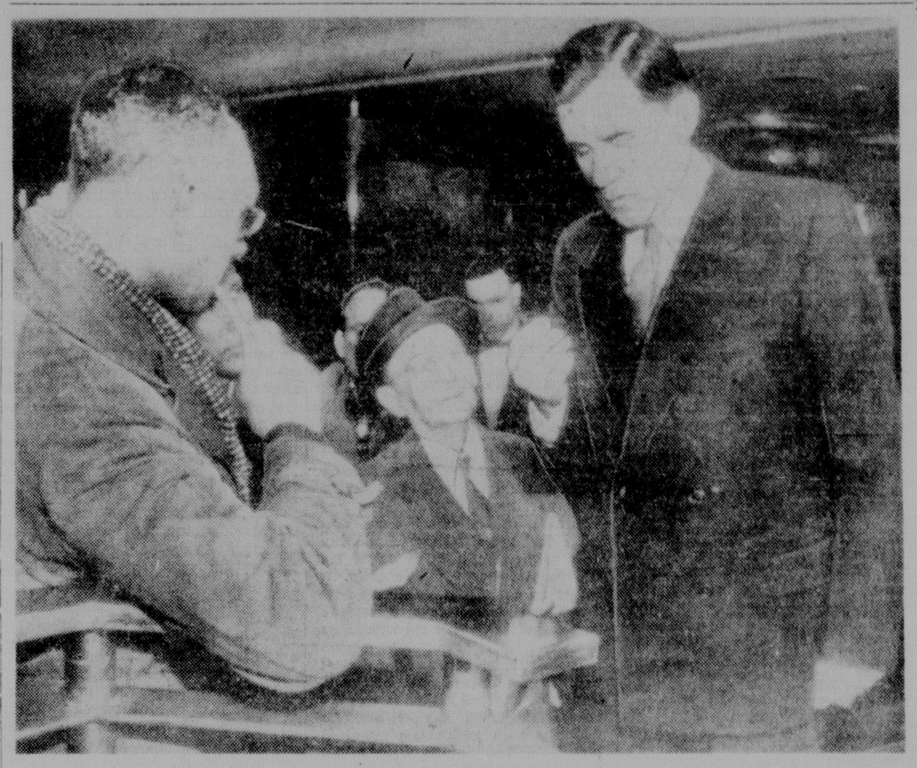

Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ. Galatians 6:2. Read Verses 1-6.

We are naturally critical of the faults of others and charitable toward our own. When one is found in any misconduct, the world judges quickly, condemns harshly, and excuses reluctantly. But, regarding our own faults, our minds have a thousand tricks of rationalization, and, consciously or unconsciously, we frame excuses.

But the life in Christ is more and more demanding on self, and more and more sympathetic toward the weaknesses of others. More than self-examination, the Christian seeks the critical examination of God. Toward others he judges not lest he be judged. He cultivates something better than tolerance—an active and redemptive understanding of the fallen that they may be restored.

Thus Christianity is a reversal of human values. The love of Christ which constraineth us places on our hearts the precious burden of all wrongs done by all to all. With Christ we drink the cup whose potion is the sin of the whole world.

Let Us Pray: O Thou who didst forgive and not condemn the person taken in sin, grant Thy followers a richer measure of Thy grace, that they, moved by love, may serve to restore the fallen in the spirit of meekness. Amen.

Broken Bow Buried Under 12-Inch Snow

Several Western Schools Are Closed: Burwell, North Platte Get 10 Inches

Winter weather, in all its fury, paid a return visit to western and central Nebraska Wednesday, dumping up to 12 inches of snow on Broken Bow and 10 inches at Burwell and North Platte.

Schools were closed at North Platte, Hershey, Sutherland and Cozad. Some roads were closed in the North Platte, Broken Bow and Stapleton areas and even where roads were open, low visibility and snow made travel extremely difficult.

Rain in East.

Early this afternoon snow continued to fall at Scottsbluff, Sidney, Hayes Center and North Platte. Rain was reported in the east and northeast portion of the state. Up to noon Lincoln received .12 of an inch of moisture.

All roads out of Broken Bow were blocked by the heavy snow and it was impossible even to drive on the city streets as the wet heavy snow heaped up.

"It's as bad as anything we had all winter long," said George Porter, of The Custer County Chief.

"There's at least a foot of snow on the ground and it's still snowing hard," he said at noon today. The wind was strong. Schools were opened this morning but as fast as pupils arrived they were sent home.

The city had power and light facilities but only one mail train arrived today.

Fear Stock Loss.

Stockmen stranded in Broken Bow expressed deep concern for the welfare of their cattle. The area now is in the midst of the calving season, and a heavy livestock loss was feared.

Porter said the storm was accompanied by an electrical disturbance. Three or four bolts of ligtning were clearly seen through the falling snow and "thunder roared just like it does during an old fashioned summer downpour."

The forecast calls for more snow in the west and central portions of the state today, ending by night, with rain mixed with snow in the east. Cloudy and slightly warmer weather is predicted for the state Thursday.

Streams throughout the state were rising and some communities

Forces Are Marshalled For Hearing

On Sales, Income Tax Bills Thursday

Advocates and opponents of a state sales tax marshalled their forces for Thursday's hearing before the revenue committee on LB 234.

Dr. Archer Burnham, secretary of the Nebraska State Education Association, said spokesmen for that group would appear for the bill, with the stipulation that the bulk of the revenue should be used for state aid for schools.

The school people propose that the revenue be divided: 68 per cent for schools; 30 per cent for the state general fund; and two per cent for administration.

Groups expected to be represented against the bill are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

Riley Warren, North Platte, chairman of the engineers' legislative board, asserted a sales tax would "lower the standard of living and directly affect more than one-fourth of our people."

Anton Munch, Omaha, said the railroad clerks opposed a sales tax "because its burden falls most heavily upon the lower income groups and those least able to pay."

Taxpayers leagues under the direction of Robert Armstrong of Omaha will vigorously oppose the bill largely on the ground that it will encourage more spending for government rather than economy in present government.

They have prepared a large number of exhibits on how the state will be affected and experience with such a tax in other states. Large delegations from all parts of the state are expected by this group to appear in opposition to added taxes.

Senators Burney and Metzger, sponsors of the sales tax measure, originally proposed placing all of the revenue in the stata general fund. An amendment is planned to use it to replace the state property tax.

The committee also will hear Sen. Lester Anderson's income tax bill. He would put half of the revenue in the state general fund, and give the other half to the counties.

Iowa Boxer Dies

SON JOSE, Cal. — (INS) — Billy Cornwall, 24-year-old Los Angeles and Des Moines, Ia., lightweight boxer, died at 10:30 a. m. today after being knocked out last night in a bout in San Jose.

Cornwall died without regaining consciousness.

He was floored in the ninth round of a 10-round fight by Tote Martinez of Stockton, Cal., with a straight right to the chin.

Dr. Anthony G. Badami, state athletic commission physician, earlier had reported that Cornwall suffered concussion and a possible blood clot.

Railroad Rate Hike Is Denied

The state railway commission Wednesday denied the request of all railroads in Nebraska for authority to establish increased rates and charges on intrastate traffic.

All roads have been granted a four per cent interim increase in rates on interstate traffic by the interstate commerce commission, and authority was asked to match this increase on intrastate traffic.

The railroads had asked a permanent increase of 12 per cent on interstate traffic, with an immediate eight per cent jump.

The request for the intrastate hike was denied because the railroads did not furnish sufficient data to the commission.

Tornado Strikes 3 Towns

. . . 2 Killed, 25 Hurt

CANTON, Okla.—(AP)— Tornadoes struck four times in northwest Oklahoma today, killing two, injuring 25 and causing heavy property damage.

Canton, Longdale and Blackwell were hit. A tornado also dipped down five miles north of Enid, and wrecked a small airport.

The greatest damage was to the first two—Canton, a town of 1,200, and nearby Longdale, 400. The dead were in Canton and Longdale.

16 Homes Razed.

In Canton the storm hit hardest in the northwest residential area and the business district, but the entire town was damaged. Streets were littered with trees, boards, bricks and wrecked autos. At least 16 residences were destroyed and more than 25 others were very heavily damaged. Nearly every business building was knocked down or damaged.

At Longdale the damage was not as great as first feared. Two business buildings were demolished and many houses damaged—but none was flattened.

The tornado in Blackwell struck the south and southwest residential areas of that city of 12,000.

6 Hospitalized.

Six persons were taken to hospitals in Blackwell and two were soon released. None of the others was reported in critical condition.

The dead were Larry Arnold, 12, Longdale, and Charles Stowers, 32, Canton.

Both were killed in their homes. Stowers' home was the first struck by the tornado here.

The Arnold boy was sleeping beside his mother in a brick building. He was crushed beneath a pile of bricks. His mother was injured.

Telephone service between Canton and other towns was restored at 7 a. m.

Torrential rains followed the tornadoes, with heavy falls of both rain and hail falling over wide areas nearby.

Relief came quickly to Canton from other towns, and by mid-morning local authorities said the problem of housing and feeding the homeless of Canton was well in hand.

A tornado, apparently a continuation of the one striking in Oklahoma, struck three farms 20 miles southeast of Winfield, Kas., about 4 a. m. (CST). Two persons were injured slightly and a number of buildings were leveled.

Gromyko Lands, Still Saying 'No'

. . . Stage Set For Signing Of Atlantic Alliance

NEW YORK—(AP)—A group of voluble western European foreign ministers arrived today aboard the liner Queen Mary to sign the North Atlantic pact. A fellow traveler was Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, still saying "No."

Eggs and tomatoes were hurled from a crowd of 500 pickets at a car bearing British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin from the pier to Pennesylvania station where he boarded a train for Washington. He was one of four foreign officials who will sign the pact there next week.

Three pickets were arrested in a push-and-pull scene with police. The pickets marched in noisy protest of Britain's policy toward Israel.

Gromyko, who arrived to attend the United Nations assembly, had "no prediction" on what would transpire there. He answered "no comment" to reporters' other questions.

Other Dignitaries.

Other foreign office chiefs besides Bevin who arrived were Belgian Premier and Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, Dutch Foreign Minister D. U. Stikker and Luxembourg Foreign Minister Joseph Bech.

The pickets, representing the joint committee to combat anti-semitism, protested Bevin's alleged "anti-semitic statements" and "hostile policy to Israel."

At a news conference aboard the liner after she had docked Bevin declared the alliance was a pact of solidarity which "should prevent war for many generations to come."

He said the pact did not in any way undermine the United Nations, adding:

"We Could Move Quickly."

"I hope we can build collective security through the United Nations—and that will come."

Under security phases of the alliance, he said, "if we were attacked, we could move very quickly."

Asked if he believed there would be a sudden attack, the bespectacled foreign secretary shook his head and replied:

"No, we are not expecting any sudden attack."

He said, however, that it would be insufficient "just to sit back" and expect everything to turn out all right.

No Attack Foreseen.

The pact, he said, "needs implementation."

The remark appeared to be an obvious reference to the western European nations' request for arms from America.

Pressed harder by reporters on his views of any attack on western Europe, Bevin said:

"No, we're not expecting an ultimate attack. But we can't tell what lies in the future."

Asked if he talked to Gromyko during the ship's calm Atlantic grossing, Bevin brought laughter with this reply:

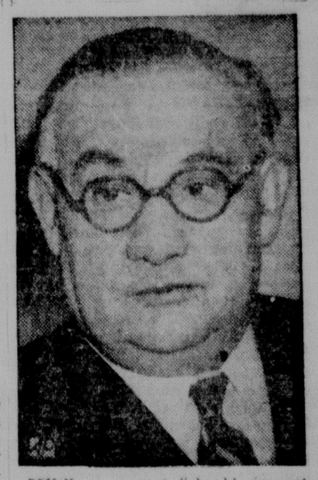

"I never disturb the ship and cause any danger."

Enthusiastic endorsement of the pact was voiced earlier by the foreign ministers, Paak, Stikker and Bech.

Plan German Talks.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Acheson said today major German progiems will be discussed with western European foreign ministers coming here to sign the North Atlantic treaty.

Acheson told a news conference the talks on Germany will be highly informal. But he said he hopes they may bring further progress on problems—such as formation of a German government—which are already under discussion in conferences in Europe.

Nourse To Keep His Post

Truman Adviser Differs With His Colleagues Over Need For Price Control

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Dr. Edwin G. Nourse said today he had handed in his resignation as chairman of the president's council of economic advisers. But he said he plans to stay on the job "as far as I've heard."

Nourse talked to reporters after a call on President Truman. He said the resignation had been in Mr. Truman's hands for at least a couple of months, but he had never discussed the matter with the president.

Nourse has been at odds with his two colleagues on the council, Leon Keyserling and Dr. John D. Clark, over handling of the administration's anti-inflation policy.

(Dr. Clark is former dean of the college of business administration, University of Nebraska.)

Routine Resignation.

However, White House informants said they regard the resignation as a routine affair in line with the practice of top government officials turning in resignations at the start of a presidential term.

Nourse, who has called recent declines a "healthy disinflation," talked with Mr. Truman for half an hour today. He was reporting, he told newsmen later, on conditions he found in four weeks of travel in the west.

The trip did not change his

Roads Closed By Snow, Mud, Wear And Tear

. . . Towns Isolated

Dozens of Nebraska roads in western and northern parts of the state were closed or blocked Wednesday as motorists found travel almost impassable because of snow, mud, and wear and tear on highways.

At least four towns—Bloomfield, Crofton, Hoskins, and Winside—were isolated by mud today as State Maintenance Engineer John McMeekin, reported that the roads were in a "worse" condition than during the winter blizzards."

Snow to a depth of 12 inches in places was snarling traffic in western Nebraska where icy roads made traveling very hazardous.

Two Bridges Out.

Some communities in the northeast were isolated by mud, with little prospect for improvement until the rain and snow stops and drying weather comes, and streams all over the state were rising.

Approaches to two bridges on U. S. 20 between the junctions with U. S. 275 and state route 108 were out, as the Elkhorn river rose to within a foot of the record crest set in the 1947 flood.

Travel was extremely difficult because of the snow.

Some roads were closed in the North Platte, Broken Bow and Stapleton areas.

The pavement on U. S. 30 at Central City has "broken up under the heavy trucks," McMeekin said. Only light traffic was going through. Most traffic was being re-routed over U. S. 34 to Grand Island, and up U. S. 81 to Columbus.

Davies Resolution To Ask 'Little Hoover Commission'

. . . Study Changes In State Government

What is wrong with the present system of state government—if anything—continues to be a topic of conversation among members of the legislature.

Sen. Thomas Davies of Lincoln announces that he will later this week present a resolution calling upon the governor to appoint a committee to study whether any changes are needed.

Sen. Lester Anderson of Aurora offered a similar resolution providing for a study by the legislative council on Feb. 22 and the following day tabled by a vote of 26 to 1.

The Davies resolution, he says, will provide that the governor appoint the commission from the ranks of the legislature, administrative departments and the citizenry at large. It would consist of 12 members whose findings would be advisory only.

No Need?

Sen. Arthur Carmody, who has been a member of the Council of State Governments and legislative council, frankly states that he can see little need of such an inquiry. He points out that it can easily lead to disruptive plans being offered.

"After attending meetings of the Council of State Governments and learning of the problems in other states, I am convinced that Nebraska is the pace setter in good government," he said. "There are some changes that I think could be made, but they could easily be made by the legislature.

"Other senators do not agree with me on the changes and I do not agree with some changes they would make. Eventually, I am sure we will reach agreements as we make further studies. The same condition would exist in the committee as members disagreed.

"We are studying the problems constantly and will be the ones who must decide. I doubt that an uninformed group could be of much benefit."

Propaganda Weapon.

Sen. Ed Hoyt said he would want to read the resolution first and see how far-reaching the inquiry will be planned. He stated that it could be a powerful weapon of propaganda. I do not think we want to authorize a campaign against basic governmental provisions the state approves, he explained.

Sen. Earl Lee said experienced businessmen who had dealt closely with personnel problems probably could offer suggestions

Storz Tells Campaign To "Sell State"

Wants Increased Use Of Nebraska Products

Nebraska's steady decrease in population during the past 10 years must be stopped by "selling Nebraska to Nebraskans and the nation."

Arthur C. Storz of Omaha made that point clear Wednesday as he outlined his recently inaugurated "Wake Up Nebraska" campaign in an address at the chamber of commerce.

Storz called for a boost in use of state products by Nebraskans as a solution to the problem of providing better employment opportunities to keep the population in the state.

Double-Edge Program.

"Championing Nebraska food products is a double-edged promotion. It not only helps Nebraska agriculture but it keeps the food processing industries prosperous and furnishes employment to thousands of Nebraska working people," he said.

"Nebraska's economic conditions are in the 'minus' column in comparison to the rest of the nation and there is no question that population is still leaving the state."

"Our best college graduates are leaving the state and statistics show an area that loses its young population becomes static and goes downhill."

Must Support Industry.

Attempting to spot the cause of these conditions, he said, "Our people, business men and community leaders, won't work together. Our citizens don't do a good enough job in supporting industries that are already established here."

"Certainly we can't create jobs in Nebraska if our local industries aren't properly supported by our own people," he stated.

"Those who accuse us of 'building a fence around Nebraska' by urging local support, don't think for a minute that other states are doing it because they urge their people to buy home-manufactured goods wherever possible." He listed Texas and California boosting by residents.

Storz called for co-ordinated support of "Selling Nebraska to Nebraskans" from every city and town in the state.

"We are now 42nd among the states in population and absolutely stagnant and making no industrial progress," he charged.

"Sell on Merits."

"Decentralization of industry is in our favor," he stated. "Industries are looking for new locations away from large population centers and many could be attracted to Nebraska if our advantages were properly portrayed."

To accomplish this, he suggested "Nebraska Booster" clubs of civic leaders, and pointed to the state's "buying power"—"Farm families averaged more than $10,000 each in 1948"; low cost and rent building sites; "fine railroads," and "practically no labor troubles in the state.

He called for an advisory and information employment service to keep college graduates in the state; more and careful attention to the state's small industries and development of a marketing and distributing service to stimulate them.

"Sell Nebraska's products on their merits to everybody," he urged. "There is no place in the state where processed or manufactured products are cheapened to meet market conditions."

The Nebraska Resources Foundation, according to Storz, "might do the job," with "at least a quarter of a million dollars to make a good start." The Foundation operates on a $12,000 a year authorization, which he termed "niggardly and inedaquate."

Money Orders Stolen — Donald Parker, Denton, reported to police that eight American Express money orders were taken from his room at a hotel Tuesday night.

RENT CONTROL

the same time assuring "a fair net operating income" for landlords. But Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) asked where was the relief for the landlord, saying the, new bill leaves the rent administrator power to do as he pleases.

Here are the major provisions of the bill:

Home Rule—The legislation sets up a process for removal of rent controls by states, cities or other local areas. Individual legislatures could remove controls throughout a state or in parts of a state. The governing body of a city or other locality could pass a resolution calling for decontrol and, if the state governor approved, then rent controls should end there.

Landlord Profits—The rent administration is required to fix rents at levels to assume landlords as a "fair net operating income ...so far as practicable."

Evictions—Restores old OPA powers for the rent expediter to control evictions. This, some congress members said, would prevent any mass evictions of tenants.

Penalty—The rent administrator is authorized to sue landlords for three times the amount of any charge made against a tenant above the legal rent ceiling. Congress decided this was a better enforcement method than fines and imprisonment, recommended by the president. Tenants now have power to sue for treble damages, but few use it. The rent administrator says they fear eviction, under the present law, if they do.

Decontrol—The administrator is authorized to put back under control any areas he decontrols after March 31. Administrator Woods says this will enable him to decontrol more than 100 of the 600 control areas, since he would have power to slap controls back if rents jump unreasonably.

Miscellaneous—The new act authorizes no further 15 per cent "voluntary" increases in rent, and recontrols any dwellings decontrolled under such voluntary leases, at the rent figure contained in such leases; trailer camps are recontrolled; the housing expediter can decontrol so-called luxury apartments; non-transient hotel apartments in New York and Chicago are recontrolled at rents of March 1, 1949, levels; veterans' priority for first chance to rent or buy a new property is continued.

Windows Damaged—F. H. Fielder, custodian at Hartley school, Thirty-third and Vine, reported to police that "a number of windows" at the school have been broken by BB gun shot recently. Also reporting BB gun damage to windows was R. L. Lingle, operator of the Lingle auction house at 2544 Randolph.

Doctors In Britain Form Medical Guild

. . . FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

LONDON —(AP)— Doctors in Britain's socialized health service voted a "revolt" today and began forming a protective guild to deal with the labor government.

Despite opposition of some who said the move classified doctors with workers in a trade union, the majority voted to form the guild. It would be called the British Medical Guild and would have a starting treasury of $4,000,000 subscribed by doctors.

Topmost issue between the doctors and the government now is money. Under the national health service the government pays doctors $3.60 a year for each patient registered in his office. The doctors want $7 for each of the first 1,000 and a sliding scale down to $4.40 for up to 4,000.

The guild would put the doctors into a united front for dealing with the government in such matters.

Under no circumstances, said a spokesman for the doctors, would a doctor refuse to treat his patients.

12-INCH SNOW

in northeast Nebraska were isolated by mud.

The Norfolk weather bureau reported considerable flooding of Elkhorn river lowlands in the Ewing, Neligh and O'Neill area.

The Elkhorn will rise steadily to near flood stage from Neligh to Norfolk in the next 24 hours, the bureau said. The Northfork and Elkhorn will continue bankful from Pierce to Norfolk and Norfolk to West Point in the next 24 hours, it added.

The Elkhorn's stage at Norfolk today was 6.9 feet, a half-foot rise in 24 hours.

The Platte remained comparatively peaceful. At Ashland, the level dropped .1 of a foot to 3.4 in 24 hours.

The Missouri river also dropped somewhat along its Nebraska reaches. At Nebraska City, however, the stage today was 15.4 feet, up one-tenth of a foot since yesterday and four-tenth of a foot above the official flood stage. But the river has to get about three feet above flood stage at Nebraska City to cause much trouble.

Mud-bound Towns.

Mud-bound communities in northeast Nebraska included Bloomfield, Crofton, Hoskins and Winside.

Snowfall totals included eight inches at Imperial, six inches at Ogallala, Ainsworth and O'Neill. The panhandle section had from one to four inches of snow.

Sidney reported three inches and Scottsbluff one inch up to 6:30 a. m. today.

At Kearney, the precipitation amounted to 1.12 inches, while Hayes Center in southwest Nebraska had 1.11.

The expression, "million dollar rain," came into use at Ogallala. The spring rain spell which started in the Ogallala area last week brought the best precipitation in months and was hailed as a big benefit to the winter wheat crop. Ogallala itself received 1.20 inch of rain last week.

Precipitation as reported by the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company during the past 24 hours is as follows:

Presbyterial Speaker Cites Group 'Unity'

Action Is Urged By State President At 69th Annual Meeting

The "oneness of the Presbyterian women's organizations" was stressed by Mrs. R. R. Scarr, Omaha, Nebraska Synodical president, Wednesday.

She spoke at the 69th annual meeting of the Nebraska City Presbyterian at Westminster Presbyterian church. Approximately 150 women were present.

Former groups, such as the ladies' aid, missionary societies, and King's daughters, have become one body with one purpose, she explained. "This co-ordination has given greater action in reaching goals of the national council of Presbyterian women's organization."

Mrs. Scarr emphasized the importance of Presbyterian women making their organizations action groups and guarding against becoming "social" bodies. She praised the women for their part in the "New Life Movement" which is revitalizing the church membership.

Hear Miss Brookmiller.

Miss Edith Brookmiller, Chicago, assistant secretary of the Board of Christian Education, described the work done in "Our Fields of Conquest."

"The largest number of youth in the history of the church are entering the nine theological seminaries of the church," she said.

Rev. John Douglas Clyde, Westminster pastor, led the opening devotion service. The noon meditation was given by Rev. Gabriel Williamson, Seward.

The prayer service for missions was in charge of Mrs. Ralph E. Simmons, Lincoln, spiritual life and stewardship chairman.

Officers Renamed.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Brookmiller explained the duties of the board members. The officers for 1949-50 were installed by Mrs. R. R. Scarr.

Officers re-elected were:

President—Mrs. George E. Lewis, Lincoln.
Vice-president—Mrs. Virgil Perry, Plattsmouth (elected).
Secretary—Mrs. L. B. Lunde, Lincoln.
Treasurer—Mrs. A. A. Beatty, Lincoln.

Secretaries are:

Literature—Mrs. M. L. Christensen, Hebron.
Spiritual Life and Stewardship—Mrs. Ralph E. Simmons, Lincoln (elected).

Social Education and Action—Mrs. R. L. Williams, Steele City.

Membership—Mrs. Fred Preston, sr., Fairbury.
Missions and Education—Mrs. M. H. Usher, Lincoln.

Miss Brookmiller and Mrs. Scarr will address informal dinner-meeting of the Presbyterian Wednesday, 6 p. m., at the YWCA. The program is planned especially for the business and professional women's group of the church.

HEALTH BILL OFFERED

the new plan, Hill said: Dr. Gilson Colby Engel, president of the Pennsylvania State Medical society; Dr. Paul Magnuson, chief medical director of the veterans' administration, and the American Hospital association.

Provisions of Bill.

This is what the bill provides:

1. Persons unable to pay would get medical and hospital care through government-supported membership in non-profit, prepaid health insurance programs.

"2. Such persons would be issued service cards entitling them to the same type and quality of hospital and medical services provided regular subscribers to health insurance plans. They would not be identified as recipients of government assistance.

"3. The state health insurance agency would reimburse the health insurance plan for the full cost of hospital and medical care provided under the plan, plus a reasonable administrative expense. The state may collect partial payment based on ability to pay from persons unable to pay full subscription charges.

"4. When any person enrolled in a pre-payment plan becomes unemployed, his health insurance subscription charges would be paid by the state agency for the same period that unemployment compensation is paid.

"5. Prepaid health insurance coverage would be broadcasted by providing for payroll deduction of subscription charges for employes of federal, state and local governments who request it.

"6. Diagnostic centers, clinics and other facilities in the states would be surveyed and a plan developed for providing additional needed diagnostic services.

"7. Facilities and services for treatment of mental, tuberculous and chronic diseases would be surveyed and a plan developed for strengthening and improving the financing of such services where needed.

"8. Areas lacking adequate medical care would be surveyed and plans developed to encourage physicians to practice in these communities. This need is greatest in rural areas.

"9. Existing enrollment in voluntary pre-payment plans would be survey and methods developed for encouraging enrollment of all persons able to pay subscription charges, particularly in rural areas."

Nourse To Keep Post

mind about the country's condition, he said.

Realistic Facing of Problems.

"I found no sense of panic, but rather a realistic facing of local problems in lumber, shipping and other industries," he said.

Nourse said he and Mr. Truman did not discuss the two-to-one council split in which Nourse is the minority voice. He is known to oppose the type of "standby" anti-inflation powers urged on congress by Mr. Truman. Keyserling and Clark have testified in behalf of the administration stand.

There have been "no recent developments"—that is, within the last 60 days—on the resignation, Nourse told reporters. When asked whether he expected to be chairman when congress adjourns this summer, he said he has "not heard to the contrary."

Th 65-year-old economist was named to the post in 1946.

Despite his known opposition to wage, price and allocation controls, Nourse told reporters that inflationary dangers still are "possibilities"—in case of a great increase in federal spending, a big wage increase or a crop shortage.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said today that economic adjustments of recent months have been "healthy and helpful," and the outlook is for "continued prosperity."

"For the last three years, it has been our aim and goal to halt inflation and adjust prices," he told a news conference. "Now, when we are approaching the outer fringes of accomplishing that goal, I see no need to get panicky, as some of our people are.

"I think we can be assured we're going to have continued prosperity. There have been some adjustments which I consider healthy and helpful. . . ."

Ice Vogues Open At Fair Grounds Coliseum Tonight

A new edition of the spectacular, colorful Ice Vogues, which played to capacity audiences last year, returns to Lincoln Wednesday night for a six-day engagement at the fair grounds coliseum.

The Ice Vogues of 1949 tops all previous Ice Vogues, and the hilarious comedy spicing the big production has earned it the title of "The Fastest and Funniest Show on Ice."

"Rear Admiral" Andre.

This year Ice Vogues presents the funny French Canadian, Paul Andre, who performed as an intoxicated sailor last year. This year Paul is a rear admiral. Andre, who started his skating career as a hockey player in Quebec, was chosen the year's zaniest comedian by the Chicago Sun-Times.

Immediately after last year's performance Ice Vogues went from Lincol n.o Honolulu. This year, after two stops in Texas, the show will leave for Puerto Rico and Sao Paulo, Brazil, for an indefinite engagement.

Children Guests Of Lions.

The children of Tabitha Home, St. Thomas orphanage, state home for children, Orthopedic hospital and Cedars Home, have been invited by the Lincoln Lions club to be special guests at the Sunday, April 3, matinee ofthe Ice Vogues. The Sunday matinee will be a special children's performance. The club will provide transporation forthe children to the coliseum and return.

that would effect savings. He would not commit himself until he knew more about the scope of the proposed resolution.

Sen. Karl Vogel expressed the belief that all departments were not as efficient as possible, but wanted to know more about the plans before sanctioning committees.

Sen. Davies said he sought to pattern his plan on the federal study directed by former President Hoover. He found constitutional provisions prohibit the legislature naming members and said the governor would be requested to name a portion of the membership of the committee from the legislature.

Several senators object to members participating on such a committee. They say that if further information is desired by members it should come from their own study by the legislative council.

Chapter 9.

"Do you mean to say," said Ellen, "that you knew he was dead and yet you've been sitting here all this time without saying a word about it?"

"I didn't see that talking about it would help matters any. I called the morgue as soon as I could."

She looked at him, shock and disbelief covering her features.

"What kind of person are you, anyway?" There was hate in her voice and the tears were spilling over her cheeks unheeded. "I suppose he's just another specimen to you. I suppose, it didn't occur to you that he might have been a real live human being and that he might have had friends who care what happened to him. Sure, I know you called the morgue. 'Come on over boys. There's a body here!' You make me sick. You know what you are—you're nothing but a cold legalized ghoul!"

At this point Dr. Fenton walked in the room.

"Ellen, Worden was just in my office. Is this terrible thing really true?" It was a low pitched voice, almost a murmur, and Raff looked up to see a slight, sandy-haired man with thick glasses.

"I'm afraid it is, Dr. Fenton." Ellen was still crying. "Dr. Rafferty here has already called the morgue."

"I sent Worden to notify the dean. He brought me the note that he left." In his hands he had the typewritten note Raff had seen on Bray's desk. Fenton looked at the piece of paper and then at Raff.

"Is he all—I mean—how did he ..." Fenton hesitated.

"No," volunteered Raff. "It was cyanide, administered by hypo." He watched Fenton closely as he gave him the information.

Fenton shuddered. "May the Lord have mercy on his soul," he murmured.

There was a silence for a few minutes, and to Raff the other two seemed numb.

Finally Ellen said, "I'd better call Mrs. Bray." Her voice was dull and expressionless.

She reached for the telephone reluctantly. Raff stopped her.

"I'll tell Mrs. Bray, but I think it would be kinder to tell her personally. My car is downstairs, and if you come with me we can go over there now."

She looked at him with suspicion. "Why this sudden desire to be so kind?"

"I'm not a complete heel," he said. Besides, he though, it's a good chance to get you alone where you can explain a thing or three.

As he maneuvered the car out of the parking space he found himself thinking that coat of hers must have cost plenty.

Raff turned from her and stared straight ahead.

"I'm sorry if I appeared so inhumanly unconcerned."

Ellen said nothing.

"You see, it was very important that I made sure that I was the first one to discover the body," he explained.

"Why? Was someone offering a prize?" There was contempt in her voice, but at least she was listening.

He slowed down, pulled the car over to the curb, and turned to look full into her face.

"I didn't know Bray," he said very deliberately, "but I know a phony suicide when I see one."

"Phony!" Her eyes widened. "Are you sure?"

"I'm afraid so."

"But why? I mean—how do you know?"

"It's very simple, Miss Carter. When I walked into Bray's room there were no lights on. I would judge that he had been dead for about nine or ten hours. That means he died around midnight last night. Do you see now why it's a phony set-up?"

She shook her head. "No, I don't get the connection at all."

"You've probably never tried to administer a hypodermic. But I can tell you that a man just can't sit down in total darkness and poke a needle into his vein. Certainly not as neatly as the one lodged in Bray's arm! And I can also tell you that a man who has just committed suicide is in no condition to get up and turn out the lights. No, Miss Carter, someone—someone very much alive—turned out those lights after Bray was dead. Of course, it could have been the janitor, or anyone else who innocently wandered into Bray's room. But in that case, why keep quiet about it? When I walked through the hall toward your office everything was nice and quiet. No commotion, nobody had found a dead body. That's why I didn't say anything to you. I wanted to find out for sure whether someone had accidentally gone into Bray's room this morning and found him there. You see, there's only one person who would have turned out the lights and kept quiet about it."

"Who?"

"The murderer, of course."

"Murderer!"

"Yes, I think it's murder. It was rigged up to look like suicide."

"But you don't suppose Professor Bray would have sat meekly by while someone murdered him! Wouldn't he have put up a struggle?"

"My hunch is that someone—the murderer—poked that needle into Bray any place he could, probably in the back when Bray wasn't looking. And after Bray was dead it was easy enough to arrange the body any way at all."

"But all this is just a hunch. You really can't ever know." It was almost a question.

He regarded her soberly.

"Miss Carter," he said softly, "if the autopsy shows another puncture mark somewhere on the body, we'll know."

A small sigh escaped her.

"I'm glad! It sounds crazy, but I'm glad! He just wasn't the type to shirk responsibility. The Brays haven't any money, and his little boy has been sick for over a year. He was the nicest, kindest person I've ever known." She buried her face in her hands. Raff pulled out a handkerchief from his pocket and gave it to her.

It's funny, he thought. I'm supposed to be out saving lives, and here I am hoping that this is really murder!

Will Rogers, Jr., Fined For Ignoring Advice Of Late Father On Speeding

LOS ANGELES—(INS)—"Don't speed. Get up 15 minutes earlier."

Will Rogers, jr., today pondered that advice by his famed father, the late humorist Will Rogers.

Rogers pleaded guilty to speeding 55 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone, dangerous passing and passing on the right.

Omaha Trio Faces Charges Of Fraud

OMAHA—(AP) — Three officials of the Miller Haselbalch & company, Omaha were placed under $1,000 bond each yesterday when they appeared before U. S. Commissioner M. O. Cunningham.

They were summoned to answer to a secret federal grand jury indictment. The officials of the heavy machinery firm are Nels J. Hasselbalch, C. D. Fintzel and George E. Rinck.

The indictment alleges the men conspired with World war II veteran employes to get preference in procuring tractors from the war assets administration to sell for profit.

The government charges the officials influenced the employes to give fraudulent statements to the war assets administration to get the machinery.

The first charge against them is conspiracy and the second charge is causing false statements to be made by a veteran in obtaining 13 pieces of heavy machinery.

Halsey Forest Receipts Set A New Record

Three Counties Share In Lieu Of Tax Payments

(Special to The Star)

HALSEY, Neb.—Public schools and roads in three Nebraska counties in which the Nebraska National Forest is located will receive $10,453.06 in lieu of taxes, it was announced today.

This total, according to W. W. Crawford, fiscal agent for region II, U. S. forest service, tops even the previous record-breaking year of 1947. As provided by law, the amount distributed represents 25 per cent of all receipts from the sale or use of national forest resources in Nebraska.

The sum is paid to counties in lieu of taxes, and the amount turned over to each county is based on the area of national forest land within the county, and has been in effect for 43 years on all national forests.

For the fiscal year, 1948, Cherry county will receive $5,867.02; Thomas county $4,050.98; and Blaine county $535.06.

Receipts accrued from the use of resources on the Nebraska National Forest principally from grazing use, more than cover the cost of administration and the protection of the forest making it a self-supporting institution, points out R. M. Smith, forester in charge.

Spring digging and baling of some 2,000,000 trees for distribution by state extension foresters to farmers and ranchers under the provision of the Clarke-McNary law is now under way, although inclement spring weather has temporarily slowed up the job.

One man's Opinion

by WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed by International News Serv.)

If we wanted to convert Shostakovitch while he's still around we could tell him what Godfrey gets for noodling a piano under our decadent capitalistic system.

KIERNAN

The commies keep referring to Wall street as the center of our capitalist economy when any American knows that all Wall street has left is what Godfrey can't carry.

And there are no recent bulletins out of Moscow concerning any ex-member of the red army renting more vaults of his folding money.

Why every time that Godfrey pulls up a piano stool or a microphone 13 men start shoveling gold pieces into bushel bags which he doesn't ever bother bringing home any more.

If this is what the intellectuals are against they came to the right country to find the wrong answer.

Taft Asks 10% Cut In Aid Fund

Vandenberg Reportedly Favors Full 5 Billion To Help West Europe

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Senate foreign policy leaders of both parties stood pat today against a move by Sens. Taft (R-Ohio) and Russell (D-Ga) to whack about 10 per cent off the $5,580,000,000 European recovery program.

But en. George (D-Ga) threw his powerful weight behind the Taft-Russell proposal with the assertion that unless some cut is made this country may face "a serious financial deficit."

Sen. Connally (D-Tex), who heads the senate foreign relations committee, predicted defeat for the Taft-Russell proposal. But the Texan admitted the vote might be close.

Vandenberg Against Cut.

The committee's top republican, Sen. Vandenberg (Mich) would not comment publicly. But he was reported to have told colleagues he is sticking by the full authorization.

Vandenberg has taken the stand that the economic co-operation administration should have elbow room to defend before the appropriations committees later the amount it says it needs.

If the authorization in the pending bill is cut, ECA would have to stay under that ceiling in its bid for actual funds to carry out its program.

Meanwhile, Sen. Malone (R-Nev) charged that Marshall plan countries helpe by the United States are actually using that aid to "rearm Russia for the third World war."

"The recipient nations are shipping everything from locomotives to jet engines to Russia and Russian satellite countries," Malone said in a speech prepared for delivery as the senate resumed debate on the authorization bill.

George told a reporter he is backing the proposed 10 per cent cut because he thinks prices are leveling off and a dollar of American funds will buy more materials to ship to Europe next fall than was estimated when the ECA budget was made up last November.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the democratic leader, opposed the cut, contending that the full amount is needed. He said in an interview that republican attacks on the Marshall plan and the North Atlantic alliance "come from the same kind of isolationism that has lost republicans elections before."

Sen. Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, said Lucas was "just talking politics." Wherry said he thinks the Taft-Russell proposal has the best chance of senate adoption of any of several amendments proposing reductions.

Taft and Russell proposed a 10 per cent cut in cash outlays, but left intact a $150,000,000 contract authorization.

Wherry said he thinks such a cut is justified, adding the bill now proposes a 25 per cent cut for Britain under what that country received last year.

"That was an arbitrary cut, made to get votes over here," Wherry said. "If that is the measuring stick, in the light of our own economy we ought to cut at least 10 per cent."

Beer Licene For West Lincoln OK'd

The state liquor control commission has granted an on and off sale beer license to Elizabeth Jelsma in West Lincoln. Issuance of the license by the commission was not protested.

The license, to become effective May 1, was previously approved by the West Lincoln village board.

Three applications for similar licenses in West Lincoln were denied by the commission last April, after petitions, signed by 51 per cent of the voters of the village, were received in protest to granting of the license. One of the three applications denied earlier was made by the same person as now has been granted the license.

Commission members said no applications have been received from the others denied earlier.

Dr. Harry Everett

To know Dr. Harry Everett, and he was known to thousands of his fellow Nebraskans, was to hold him in high respect and the warmest esteem.

Through long years of distinguished medical practice he brought comfort and hope to the sickroom. A great heart, which yearned to be of service to his fellowmen, coupled with a brilliant mind, with that thorough preparation acquired both here at home and abroad, with an insatiable thirst for knowledge in the progress of his chosen profession that continued throughout his life, Dr. Everett enjoyed a renown that extended beyond the borders of his home state.

The news of his death Wednesday will bring sorrow to a large number of people.

He was more than a great doctor and surgeon, he was a great friend, one of the most companionable of men, gentle, kindly, thoughtful, and considerate. His tenderness frequently was hidden behind a bluff, plain-spoken exterior, but Harry Everett never inflicted a hurt upon his fellowmen, and among his friends his cheerfulness, his warmheartedness were tonics, a constant source of inspiration.

His was such a facile mind, so outstanding in so many fields of knowledge. He loved flowers, and for years his gardens gave not only him but all of his friends a great delight. He knew humanity and in philosophical reflection in the all too infrequent opportunities to visit with him, we heard words of wisdom, of understanding, and of compassion for the struggles which constitute the pattern of everyday living. He had time for the young men of his profession, to encourage and to help them; he gave a great deal of thought to the course of affairs in his community and in his country. Busy man that he was, with the enormous demands upon his time and energy, there were times when he would seize the telephone to discuss developments that held his profound interest, and always on such occasions, we had a feeling of gratitude for his encouragement.

We shall mourn the passing of a good friend.

One Good Turn

Across the river in Iowa a member of the Iowa house of representatives, Chris Hinrichs, chairman of the committee on claims, reported to his colleagues that he had received a bill from a Nebraska citizen for $7.80. A chunk of ice from the blade of an Iowa snowplow struck the window of a Nebraskan's car, breaking it. Then the claims committee chairman recalled that in dead winter Iowa sent a number of snowplows to Nebraska to open up long-blocked highways, at a cost of more than $9,000 to the state. So he returned the bill to the Nebraska Highway commission. Surely one good turn deserves another. Hinrichs did not make public the name of the claimant.

Stocks Go Begging

Action by the federal reserve board to make it easier for the American people to invest in stocks could have been anticipated. Whether it will prove the tonic an investing public apparently has needed is another matter. But the regulation calling for a 75 per cent cash payment in the acquisition of stocks has been scaled down to 50 per cent. That goes to one of the inexplicable developments of our times. The year of 1948 was one of the greatest industrial profits in American history. Dividends and extra dividends were paid by a large number of the corporations whose securities are listed on the New York stock exchange. There were stock dividends as well in some instances. Yet the market trend generally was downward. A lack of sound investment is only less regrettable than the rash, speculative fever which led to such dire results in the '20s. A healthy America wants nothing of either extreme.

Tut, Tut, Mr. Torgeson!

Republican Founders' Day Chairman S. E. Torgeson was in fine fettle, politically, but could have profited, possibly, by turning an attentive ear to what a seasoned party brother, former Governor Dwight Griswold, said in replying to Mr. Torgeson's criticism of the unicameral legislature.

"The republican party doesn't have any fortitude," Mr. Torgeson had told his party associates. "They haven't got nerve enough to go in and fight a partisan legislature. We put a republican governor behind the eight-ball with a nonpartisan legislature.

Shortly after Governor Griswold had his turn at it in these words:

"Nebraska has never had a very political legislature, and when I was a member of the legislature we had just as much trouble with a republican governor as with a democratic governor. We don't want a legislature dominated by the executive. We want it independent in its judgment so that it may vote its convictions."

On the basis of the debate in the news columns, we'll cast one vote for former Governor Griswold. Mr. Torgeson has forgotten, apparently, his own party's stand on a "rubber stamp congress." For years it was charged by the republicans that the late FDR cracked the whip and top-heavy democratic majorities danced to his tune. Which hasn't anything, whatever, to do with the question raised by the criticism voiced by Mr. Torgeson. There isn't anything very partisan about most of the burdens that concern state government. There isn't a case for partisanship to be made in the program of education, in the care of the state's wards under the supervision of the board of control, in the construction of highways, or in any of the majority of the proposals which come before the unicameral for decision.

The politician, the chap who works at it seven days a week, the man who insists that his party never makes a mistake and is always right—in the main constituted the chief opposition to the unicameral plan at the time of its adoption, and in the ranks of present-day critics there remains a large number of these earnest, honest, hard-working party water-carriers, still unreconciled. Governor Griswold was speaking only in down-to-earth practical common sense spirit when he said legislatures had just as much trouble with republican governors as with democratic governors. That is legislative history. And the former governor was only voicing the thought of most of his fellow-Nebraskans when he said that the state did not desire a legislature dominated by its executive, that it expected the legislature to use some independence in its judgment.

Curiously, Rep. Karl Stefan of the Third Nebraska district was back from Washington for the Founders' Day gathering, and apparently intrigued by Mr. Torgeson's blast at the unicameral. "In the east," Congressman Stefan said, "the question asked me more frequently than any is how a state manages to get together in nonpartisan spirit and talk over its problems in good temper and mutual purpose."

Why not? A mile of Nebraska road would not recognize a republican label from a democratic label, a hospital building cannot distinguish between a republican and a democrat. The unicameral has its own inherent problem of leadership; of developing within itself a quality of leadership to enable it to function effectively. Its rules may call for revision but there is no sound, sensible reason why the business of any state should be kicked around in the steaming atmosphere of partisanship.

SURGEONS TAFT AND WHERRY

We assume that in view of the improved economic health of the countries of western Europe, which participate in the Marshall plan, and falling prices here at home, Senator Bob Taft of Ohio and Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska can make a case for their proposed slash of 10 per cent in the 5½-billion dollar appropriation for the second year of European recovery fund. A reduction of 500 millions would save American taxpayers, who have been reaching into their pockets, a most substantial sum, might strengthen the position of a bloc in congress intent upon warding off any legislation increasing taxes of the individual and upon business.

We are equally certain that Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, top-ranking republican member of the foreign relations committee, Senator Tom Connally, and their colleagues can make an equally persuasive, convincing argument for the full 5 billions, 580 millions. America, in all of this business, is in the position of matching faith with dollars, having launched the European recovery program upon her own initiative.

The split in the senate in this key measure of American foreign policy re-establishes historic realignments that put in their appearance early in the 81st congress. It is in the main the northern republican conservatives and the southern democrat conservatives in close coalition against the field, which on the matter of foreign policy has been inclined to ignore party lines wholly to support the Truman administration 100 per cent. Thus Taft and Wherry are joined by democratic Senator Russell of Georgia and Senator George of Georgia in the effort to slice the European recovery program fund.

It is impossible to separate psychology, a most vital factor in the present developments in western Europe, from the controversy that has arisen. We are rebuilding these countries, the only free soil in Europe, the only portions of Europe which have escaped from the Iron Curtain, as a buffer against communism. In less than a year of operation of the Marshall plan their economic progress has been remarkable. Even more impressive, though, have been the strides made in political outlook, the strengthening of ties with this country, the dwindling of communism within the Marshall plan nations, and the stabilizing of the governments have been most gratifying.

There is hope in western Europe today. The tides moving toward communism have been receding. The Marshall plan was set up to cover a definite range of years. Now, before the close of the first 12 months, we propose to tighten the purse strings. What will be the reaction to it among those peoples with whom we are associated? What interpretation will they place upon it?

It is not comforting to recall that prior to World war II some of these men now urging the senate to reduce European recovery funds were unblushingly isolationist in their voting records. That, we take it, is a most serious problem, raised by this proposal. Perhaps Senate Majority Leader Lucas spoke too broadly when he said that the attacks on the Marshall plan and the North Atlantic alliance "come from the same kind of isolationism that lost republicans elections before" but there is just enough in the record to suggest that a non-partisan foreign policy program faces a critical threat at a most unfortunate time. We say unfortunate because in a few days the representatives of those countries participating in the North Atlantic pact gather in Washington for ceremonies launching that treaty designed to safeguard world peace.

OFF THE RECORD

WASHINGTON.— Top American scientists held a private meeting with Secretary of Defense Forrestal regarding the Bikini bomb test—so far withheld from the public.

The scientists included Dr. Harold Urey of the University of Chicago, one of the originators of the A-bomb; Dr. Karl Compton, Institute of Technology; Dr. DaInstitute of Technoliogy; Dr. David Bradley, author of "No Place to Hide"; and W. T. Holliday, president of Standard Oil of Ohio.

Forrestal listened sympathetically, told the scientists that the final Bikini report was on President Truman's desk waiting for him to decide whether it should be published.

This left the matter entirely up to Truman. So after the Forrestal meeting was over, the scientists conferred among themselves as to what they should do about the president.

"It would be most unwise for us to bring any pressure on him," urged Dr. Compton of MIT. "Because if you push him, he will just get angry and spiteful and will sit on the report until doomsday."

PEARSON tells of a recent private meeting between scientists and Secretary of Defense Forrestal regarding the Bikini bomb tests, reports upon which have not been given to the American public. The columnist says that Dr. Karl Compton (above) urged his scientific associates not to press President Truman to make them public.

Regretfully, other scientists agreed that this was right. Any pressure on Truman to publish the Bikini report would probably make him stubborn, they decided, so they did nothing. Meanwhile, facts which Russian scientists already know about the way the A-bomb make warships almost a thing of the past, remain a secret from the American people.

NOTE—Congressional leaders make a similar complaint about Truman. The best way to keep a man in office, they have found, is to show him up as inefficient, following which a perpetual job with Truman is almost guaranteed.

Behind the current drive for a sales tax in the District of Columbia, Georgia, Indiana and other states is none other than our old friend—the real-estate lobby.

Big realty operators, fearful of a boost in property taxes, as well as state income taxes, think they can head this off with a sales tax on consumers.

This is one of the reasons back of the current efforts of reactionary Rep. Howard Smith of Virginia and other friends of the real estate lobby to force congressional approval of a sales tax for the District of Columbia.

The house recently rejected a sales tax for the district by a vote of 178 to 166. However, Congressman Smith and his cohorts are keeping at it.

Speaker Sam Rayburn may have to settle a wide-open revolt in the house veterans affairs committee against the dictatorial capers of Chairman John Rankin of Mississippi. Committee colleagues, led by Reps. Walter Huber of Ohio and Harold Patten of Arizona, are having a showdown with Rankin this week that he must start living up to house rules in the conduct of veterans committee meetings.

Hostility against the Mississippi congressman has been at fever pitch since seven committee members angrily walked out of a meeting on Feb. 15, after Rankin railroaded his veterans pensions bill through the committee without even permitting debate.

Democratic and republican members also are furious at him for refusing to call another meeting since the Feb. 15 walkout. Urgent legislation is piling up in the committee, including bills to equalize pensions for World war I and II widows and orphans and to adjust disabled veterans benefits to higher living costs. But Rankin has refused to call a committee meeting for a solid month and a half.

A lot of collaborationists once chummy with Japs and nazis are quietly easing back into power. Yet the state department, in whose hands rests the responsibility for keeping the peace, doesn't even seem to know it.

In Washington, for instance, the No. 2 man in the Philippine embassy is Emilio Abello, "minister plenipotentiary of the Republic of the Philippines." The state department is supposed to know all about him. That is part of its business.

However, when Richard R. Ely, chief of the state department's division of Philippine affairs, was asked whether Minister Abello had ever been a Jap collaborationist, he answered no.

"If Abello had ever been in prison or anything like that," replied Ely, "we would know about it."

Abello himself was somewhat more frank — after being faced with the evidence. He admitted that he had been jailed for four months by General MacArthur as a collaborationist, but was released when the jails were taken over by the Filipinos. He further admitted that he had been secretary to Jose Laurel, the infamous puppet ruler, put in power by the Japs.

Abello was also given an opportunity to read a U. S. army counter-intelligence report which described him as "untrustworthy and willing collaborationist" whose "influence and responsibilities have increased under the Jap regime. Should have info on Japs' methods of political and military control of captured territory and knowledge of Jap army."

"It is recommended," said the army report, five months later (September 1945) "that subject's internment be continued."

Abello's reaction was:

"All they had on me was general statements. They never were able to prove anything except that I was Laurel's secretary. There were two classes of what you call collaborationists—those who aided the Japs and those who just worked for the puppet government."

Since arriving in the U. S. A., however, Abello has been making speeches telling how "we" put up a heroic defense against the Japs, and has been urging American investments in the Philippines. Speaking before the Export Managers club of New York last winter, he said:

"The devastation in our country, the wrecked condition of our national economy are due to our heroic defense of your interests as well as ours and because we stood in the way of the vandals who stalked the world to destroy the United States."

HOUSE CLEANING TIME

The early robins have arrived; the lawn is turning green.
The women folks are saying, now 'tis time
the home to clean.
Soon, on the clothes line in the yard will drapes and rugs be seen.

All husbands, past the honeymoon, though be they weak or stout,
The old piano and the couch will have to move about.
And carry to the attic things their wives have ordered out.

Oh, peaceful world, that cannot be, though song birds gayly sing!
Oh, world the Lord has graced for man with many a lovely thing!
Why must the women spoil it with house cleaning every spring?

Bad Weather Keeps 'Swoose' In Omaha

OMAHA—(INS)—The "Swoose" was grounded for another day in Omaha today because of bad weather.

Col. Frank Kurtz said he now plans to takeoff about noon tomorrow in the famous B-17 which saw service throughout World war II.

The plane will circle Des Moines en route to Chicago where it will land at Orchard air base about 3:30 p. m. (CST).

Hundreds of Omahans are viewing the famous ship at the Omaha municipal airport. It is en route to Washington where it will be placed on exhibit at the Smithsonian institute.

Colonel Kurtz and other members of the original Pacific fighting crew of the "Swoose" were feted yesterday by the chamber of commerce.

NUMBERS, NOT AGE.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: No doubt we all have read of the vets pension bill being fought over in Washington. I'm a veteran of eight years service and I believe the boys of the second World war are not getting a fair deal if they are excluded in this pension bill. Everyone is concerned with the number of them, not their age. The average veteran of WW II was about 23-27 years. So it would take close to 35 years before any of them could collect, and it stands to reason a lot of them won't be here to collect it. Guess the people have already forgotten the boys of World war II.

FORTY YEARS NEXT MAY.

Inavale, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: As a reader of The Lincoln Star for 35 years I am sending you some verse:

The cave on our farm was a hole in the ground
Where sometimes snakes would crawl or hide around.
It was not a pleasant place to stay, you see,
But when the cyclone came it saved my life for me

Forty years ago, on the 17th of May,
The grass was green and the birds were gay.
People were restless, walking to and fro,
They were worried and did not know where to go;
Their eyes were focused way up in the sky
Where a funnel-shaped cloud was drawing nigh.

It pulled up a building here and there,
Turned it into splinters, threw it everywhere;
Proceeding in a circle, it traveled very slow,
Picking up things wherever it would go.
No use to close the windows and lock the door—
It pulled up the house and left the floor.

But we were all safe, down in the cave,
Standing numb while listening to the cyclone rave.
The load was heavy it seemed to know,
For down by the barn it dipped very low.
Lifted off the roof with a sudden stroke,
Picked up a horse that was not broke,
Whirled it in the air for a mile or so—
It came down without a scratch when the storm let go.

That night we had no place to stay
The storm had carried our beds far away;
Flour mixed with sand made bread hard to eat—
We had to be careful, not break our teeth.
When the storm was over we, a family of five,
Stunned to see our home gone, were happy to be alive.

From this take warning, your life it may save;
If you have a home, to also have a cave—
A true story painted in black and white
By one who runs to the cave when a storm is in sight.

DEGREE REQUIREMENT.

Pierce, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The State County Superintendents association at their last session, December, 1948, passed the following resolution:

"All county superintendents incumbent as of Jan. 1, 1949, should have a bachelor of arts degree or its equivalent or obtain this degree within the next two-year period."

The law which went into effect in September, 1938, required all candidates to hold a degree except incumbents at that time. So if any county superintendent now only has two years of college he has been in office at least 10 years without making any effort to raise his qualifications by extension or short summer sessions. If outsiders are required to hold a degree in order to file, then all should be required to hold the same qualifications. If incumbents may file on a two-year certificate, then others should be permitted to file with the same qualifications, insuring equal rights for all.

HOW TO CHECK RUSSIA.

Anselmo, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It seems that everybody thinks there ought to be a law to compel everybody else to think and do as they do. Now since the democratic party is in power why doesn't some one introduce a bill to prohibit republicans from voting, and that before being allowed to vote a person must take an oath that he is not affiliated in any way with the republican party, as we are afraid they plan to take away all progressive laws and rights of the common people and turn everything over to private enterprise or privileged classes. Now wouldn't that be something?

If we really want to do something to block Russia or check the spread of communism we must show the world that our government is doing more for the com-

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

NEW YORK.—The picket line and the mass demonstration have long been a form of violent political expression here in the teeming, febrile crossroads of the world. Only yesterday were the demonstrations, the clashes, the picket lines that marked the feverish period preceding World war II.

Marquis Childs

Often in that period the political lines shifted with dismaying rapidity. There was that strange time when the communists in New York, in response to the Soviet-nazi pact, abruptly joined up with the isolationists and hurled such epithets as "imperialist warmonger" at anyone who dared to say the nazis were a menace to peace.

Observing what happened here during the past week end, one must admit, however sadly and reluctantly, that the symptoms of that earlier period are recurring. The temperature is ominously rising. The hatreds and fears are mounting.

But there was one meeting which was a kind of calm at the center of the whirlwind—a quiet place where men and women were profoundly concerned about truth. That was the meeting held at freedom house by Americans for intellectual freedom.

One after another the speakers told, with abundant documentation, how the freedom of the poet to write, the freedom of the musician to compose, the freedom of the scientist to inquire and experiment are being destroyed in the Soviet union. It was a frightening picture of spreading darkness decreed by an all-powerful dictatorship.

These speakers did not claim that all is perfect in this country. Far from it! They pointed to the all-too-frequent interference here with the basic freedoms. But, as they pointed out, the right to protest, to criticize, to demand redress is very much alive. In Russia the answer to even the mildest criticism is the concentration camp.

One speaker who made a deep impression was Dr. H. S. Muller, professor of zoology at Indiana university. Dr. Muller is a Nobel prize winner in genetics, which is the branch of biology dealing with heredity.

He began in his quiet, schoolmaster's voice speaking about what a tender growth science is. The right of free inquiry and free experimentation is so new in the world. It has come to the end of a long, long struggle against various forms of absolutism and tyranny.

Then he began to talk about something he had seen at first hand in Soviet Russia. Dr. Muller had come to know the leaders of the science of genetics in Moscow. They were brilliant men who worked tirelessly and organized persistently to push back the horizon of knowledge.

But the political bosses at the top of the communist party in Russia decided that the conclusions of the geneticists were contrary to political doctrine. They began systematically to tear down the whole organization the genetic scientists had built up.

Under pressure some of the scientists "confessed" their guilt. Others were banished. In 1940 the most famous geneticist, N. I. Vavilov, former head of th Lenin Academy of Agricultural Science, was arrested. He died in Siberia in 1942, his important papers destroyed.

"About seven months ago," Dr. Muller said, "the central executive committee of the communist party of the Soviet Union officially repudiated the entire science of genetics and approved in its stead a group of superstitions that hark back to ancient times."

The official belief rigidly enforced today is that human beings who live under a superior environment will tend to become innately superior. Those who live in an inferior—and this can be translated capitalist—environment become innately inferior. This is directly contrary to all the patient findings of several generations of scientists. As Dr. Muller pointed out, it repeated the nazi creed of innate master and subject races and classes.

Some of us may be inclined to say, "Well, what of it? That is going a long way off and it doesn't concern me very much anyway." But it must be the concern of every free citizen today to make sure that the pursuit of truth is not encroached upon by the enemies of truth at home or abroad.

A long time ago Socrates asked, "What is truth?" His searching questions got under the skin of the political bosses of his day that they put him to death. But the search for truth still goes on.

"Communistic Cells" In Lincoln, Stefan Says

But GOP Congressman Offers No Proof In Founders Day Address

More than 800 Nebraska republicans Tuesday night were told that only the sincere efforts of a devoted minority of GOP congressmen have saved this country from "going socialist."

Speaking at the annual Founders' Day banquet at the Lincoln hotel, Congressman Karl Stefan Norfolk said "the republican minority of the 81st congress is instilled with but one desire . . . to check the $42 billion budget of the administration which forecasts gloom and a planned economy."

Time To Stop, Listen.

Substituting for Minnesota Congressman Walter Judd, who was unable to fill his Nebraska engagement, Rep. Stefan declared: "No longer do we appropriate money to run our own government, but for every government in the world."

"I'm worried, and I want you to be worried," Rep. Stefan told the republican gathering.

"The wall of destruction is in flood-tide throughout the world," Stefan said. It's in America."

"While spending billions to rehabilitate foreign government and stop the wall of communism in foreign countries, isn't it time to stop, listen and think a little about America?"

"Right here in Lincoln," he said, "there are communistic cells of individuals backed by people of great intellect who are teaching, sowing seeds of discontent with determined effort, to destroy this government of ours by force and violence."

Speaking of the Marshall plan, Stefan declared that "we no longer appropriate money to run the government in America alone.

Pathetic Experience.

Continuing, the dean of Nebraska congressmen declared:

"There is no difference of opinion on how to spend the money for national defense, but on how it should be handed out to foreign governments."

Relating his tour through Europe last summer, Rep. Stefan told what a "pathetic experience it was to see heads of 16 foreign nations bickering over how to spend your money."

"Many billions" could have been saved, according to the Third district congressman, "but for the pressure of overgrown bureaucracy." Taxes can be cut tremendously without effecting government administration in the least, he added.

Country Broke.

"Practically every bill coming out of committee reflects the possibility of cutting the budget, rather than increasing it," Rep. Stefan stated. "Even the bureau chiefs admit that the 80th congress was right in saving the people money by eliminating agencies," he added.

The chairman of the house committee on appropriations has announced that "the country is broke, bankrupt, and we must cut the excess agencies," Rep Stefan declared.

Stating that the "lied about and maliciously maligned" 80th congress gave him "great cause for worry," the congressman stated: "When the department chiefs made up the budget they were intending on and hoping for the republicans to win."

"We are spending billions to rehabilitate foreign countries at the very time that we should be doing something to check our internal security," he said.

No Surrender.

There must be "no surrender to the vermin, the forces of the enemy who are seeking to undermine our schools, our churches, and even our senate," Rep. Stefan warned. He concluded his speech by saying: "The last hope for humanity is the United States. All the rest of the world is encircled by or under the paw of the red Russian bear."

Preceding Stefan, Fourth district Congressman A. J. Miller of Kimball said "the propaganda of the administration greatly disturbs me."

"It is very subtle and very keen," he said. "Everything is ostensibly for the health and welfare of the people, but it really is a means to regiment and control the entire nation."

Speaking for the young republicans in Nebraska, James Hardy, a law student at the university stated: "Young republican forces in Nebraska are stronger than any time before. Give us a chance, and we will come through with votes at elections."

In closing ceremonies, Governor Val Peterson told the group: "I need not reassure you that in the coming years the republican party will be a sound, alert, progressive party."

S. E. Torgeson of Kimball, senior president of the Founders' Day officers, presided at the banquet and introduced the speakers and guests.

CONGRESSMAN SAVES THE DAY—As far as republicans were concerned today, it was Rep. Karl Stefan, Norfolk, left, who had made a success of this year's Founders Day celebration in Lincoln. Here the congressman, pinch-hitting for Rep. Walter Judd, of Minnesota, shows S. E. Torgeson, left, Kimball, a copy of the address he delivered at the Founders Day banquet Tuesday night at the Lincoln hotel. Torgeson, who is senior president of the Founders Days event, asked Rep. Stefan to address the gathering of 800 after Rep. Judd wired that he would be unable to attend. (Staff Photo.)

Big Growth Of Cosmetics Sales Told By State Druggists Speaker

"More and more women have found it convenient to take care of their own beauty needs," said Carl W. Gardiner, vice-president in charge of sales and advertising of Schnefel Bros. corporation of Newark, N. J., who was a speaker at the Nebraska Pharmaceutical association's sixty-sixth annual convention in Lincoln Tuesday.

"Women's have learned to use effectively cosmetics in the past 15 to 20 years to where they have developed a 'natural look.' They like to feel that they are attractive and have made themselves so."

"Cosmetics act as a stimulant to a woman when her spirits are low," he said, "but she does feel that they are a luxury. Cosmetics to a woman may be compared to a man's shaving cream."

Indicative of the increasingly important role cosmetics are playing in the life of the American woman are the sales figures cited by Mr. Gardiner for the last decade:

"The cosmetics business is three times as great today as it was in the 30s. And even though the 1948 sales were five per cent below the 1946 level (an all-time high), sales this year are twice that of the period from 1941 to 1942."

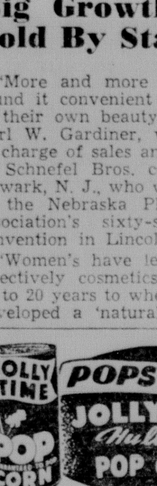

Federal excise tax collection figures are an excellent barometer of cosmetics sales. The trend in tax collection for cosmetics is in direct proportion to the population throughout the country."

Most popular of cosmetics items used by American women is lipstick, according to Mr. Gardiner. Second is face powder.

Lay Offs Hit State Highway Department

. . . Need Funds

A dozen highway department engineering personnel have been laid off for lack of work, State Engineer F. H. Klietsch reported today.

"And if we don't get any more money we're going to have to lay off 50 to 100 more," he said.

Klietsch indicated resumption of work this spring on some $6,000,000 worth of projects previously contracted for would aid the situation somewhat, as some men can then be sent into the field.

"We hate to lose men we've trained for three years," he declared. "We're trying to hang on to them until we see what money we're going to have."

Hunting-Fishing Fees Can Be Used For State Parks

Four state park appropriation bills now pending in the miscellaneous appropriations committee may be affected by an attorney general's opinion issued today.

The opinion, asked by Committee Chairman Norris Schroeder, Hoskins, said:

"The legislature is constitutionally free to direct any lawful use of license fees received from hunting and fishing licensing in which said fees may be appropriated."

Bills held in committee would appropriate money for improvements at Ponca, Niobrara and Chadron state parks, and to establish a park at Fort Kearny.

Schroeder said his group probably would meet next week with members of the State Game, Forestation and Parks commission to discuss the matter.

Used Car Men Seek Representative On State Motor Board

OMAHA—(AP)—The Nebraska Used Car Dealers' association moved today to ask Gov. Val Peterson to appoint a used car dealer to the motor vehicle advisory board.

The request was being drafted as the result of action taken at the annual meeting of the association here last night.

State law mentions a used car dealer in setting up the advisory board's membership but does not specify a dealer exclusively in used cars.

Ray Hayward of Omaha was re-elected president. Joe Pascale of Omaha was named vice president; Bert Miller of Omaha, secretary, and Edward Rosen of Omaha, treasurer.

Elected directors were Cliff Nelsen, William Able, John Markel, Merle Meeks and Jake Wine, all of Omaha; Earl Foster of North Platte, Orville Parrish of Lincoln, A. M. Lovell of Columbus and Al Lentz of Beatrice.

Given Probation On Burglary Charge

James Palmer, 17, who was returned from Atlanta, Ga., to answer a charge of burglary here, pleaded guilty and was placed on probation for two years by District Judge Ralph P. Wilson Tuesday.

Palmer was charged with taking part in the March 22, 1948, burglary of the West O cafe. He was previously implicated in the break-in.

Palmer, who is married and employed in Atlanta as a baker, will be permitted to return to Georgia, but will make regular reports to probation officials.

Palmer said he took part in the March 22 burglary while here on furlough from the army in Colorado. He was discharged June 28.

The Girl Who Knows Wears Simon's Clothes!

No Action On $12,000,000 State Aid For Education

. . . Inefficiency School Operation Charged

By ARCH DONOVAN.

Budget committee members left a three hour hearing on LB 404, appropriating $12,000,000 annually for basic support of schools, shaking their heads over the Solomonlike decisions expected of them.

With two big problems facing them at this session, roads and schools, they met up with the same testimony at both hearings.

Greatly simplified, the argument goes, "Don't increase taxes; there is plenty of money; it's all due to poor administration that we do not have the services the public demands."

"I wish some of these people would go out in my district and tell the people responsible to their face what they think of them," said one senator. "You would think school teachers and the highway department were dictators and could do as they please when you hear the blame placed on them. They ignore the fact they just work for others.

Blame Wrongly Placed.

"You never hear witnesses at these hearings admit that the counties that spend over half of the road funds are responsible in any way for poor roads. All blame goes on salaried state employes.

"You hear no blame placed on residents of school districts for conditions. It is the school administrators alone that are blamed because there is no redistricting, that bonds are issued for school gymnasiums, that more than the three R's are taught.

"And the legislature—we sit in the middle, 'damned if we do and damned if we don't.' Why don't some of these people who provide local leadership lift up their voices and be counted."

Opposition to the appropriation came from Neal Haskell, Laurel, of the Small Business Men's association and a farmer, and Robert Armstrong, head of the Omaha Taxpayers League.

Haskell complained that when farmers have to send children longer distances to school they lose their help on the farm outside of school hours. If they go to town schools, he complained, they want to participate in dramatics, athletics, music, etc., which takes time from farm work.

Hit Town Schools.

The town schools, he said, want to "keep up with the Joneses" and expand in services beyond their ability. Towns only able to afford a 10 grade school, he explained, have 12 grades. He also would limit courses offered.

Opposes Sales Tax.

He suggested that one town offer vocational education courses and its neighbor offered the arts courses suitable for preparing for college. He would have buses transport pupils to the chosen school.

Haskell opposed a sales tax because it was taking money out of one pocket rather than another although he said personally he would gain because of being a land owner. The burden would fall on my renter he explained.

Redistricting Plea.

Armstrong called for abolishment of inefficient schools, overlapping of services and particularly elimination by redistricting of schools with small enrollment.

He pointed out that the cost per pupil for the 48,183 in rural schools was $193.80 annually from tax money alone. The cost for the city schools 151,423 pupils from taxes and tuition, he said averaged $169.50.

Tax levies for schools, he said, have increased from $19,200,000 in 1941 to $43,285,000 in 1948.

The proponents of the bill represented the teaching profession and the Parent-Teacher association. No representatives of school boards or other organizations appeared. They expressed opposition to increased property taxes and advocated a broadened tax base.

Lowest In Nation.

L. A. Bragg, Holdrege superintendent and representative of the Nebraska Education association, explained LB 405 on which hearings had been held the day previous before another committee. The bill, it is contended, would equalize school opportunities on a statewide basis.

The state appropriation, he said, was necessary to make LB 405 operative and pointed out that the 2.8 per cent of state income that goes to schools is the lowest in the nation.

Supt. Earl Wiltse of Grand Island said schools are facing the problem of attendance due to the increased birth rate. He estimated this alone will require 40 additional teachers and classrooms in Grand Island by 1956. He said five had been added this year.

"If kids are to meet their obligations as we have met ours in our day, they must have better education to meet the changing conditions in the world," he asserted. He said the handicapped have been neglected and that he has demands for better health programs, vocational agriculture, etc.

Supt. Harry Burke of Omaha said that in his past studies of rural economics he became satisfied that efforts will have to be made to revitalize rural communities. He urged efforts be made to unify the social life of rural sections in the communities.

Omaha schools will have an increase of 10,000 enrollment by 1956, he said, due to the increased birth rate.

Mrs. Jean Allen of Lincoln representing the PTA told of the stand that organization has taken in behalf of state basic aid for schools to equalize opportunities over the state.

Frank Heinish of Omaha explained that the constitution makes the legislature responsible for providing educational opportunities and that it is not entirely a local problem. He recalled the state aid given schools from 1887 until 1907.

Dr. Archer Burnham, executive secretary of the Nebraska State Education association, requested that no action be taken on the bill until the legislature has acted on bills that would broaden the tax base. He said they opposed higher taxes on real estate.

Dr. Burnham predicted that the redistricting bill before the legislature would not accomplish the results expected because there was no incentive offered to redistrict.

Family Back In Contact After 20 Years Apart

TOPEKA, Kas. — (AP) — All eight members of the Trumbo family who became separated more than 20 years ago were back in contact with one another today.

Latest addition to the long-broken family circle is the father, Fay Trumbo, 61, who has been discovered residing here and only a short distance from Mrs. Charles Van Cleave, one of the six children.

The mother, Mrs. Beulah Ferris of Arapahoe, Neb., previously had regained contact with the three sons and three daughters.

The children were placed for adoption when the parents were divorced more than 20 years ago. Both parents since have remarried.

The family circle began to be reassembled recently as the result of prolonged efforts of the various members to find trace of one another.

Other members of the family are Dale Trumbo, Hays, Kas.; Wilma Leake, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Ladonna Hillman, Grover, Colo.; Newton James Trumbo, Stockton, Calif., and Cpl. Glenn Freeland, Fort Riley, Kas., who was originally called Marion F. Trumbo.

The Van Cleaves who re-established contact with the father said "we sure hope to have a reunion, but there will be a lot of problems, with everyone spread out and established in new homes."

Women's Role In Rebuilding GOP Outlined

Utah Woman Hits Demo 'Fair Deal'

Women were told the role they must play in rebuilding the republican party at the Nebraska Republican Founders' day women's luncheon at the Lincoln hotel.

And they heard a few cuts at the Truman administration too.

Speaker Mrs. Roy F. Priest, national committeewoman from Utah and member of the national executive committee, emphasized the woman's role in party rebuilding. "Women know about this wasteful spending in government, and piling bureaucracy upon bureaucracy," she said.

Look Toward 1950.

"They can spot it, and they don't like it. The republicans have a real job to do in 1950, and we can do it." She pointed out that women could cast one and one-half million more votes than men.

"But," she added, "men and women must work together to rebuild the party." Mrs. Priest said the republicans failed to "tell the issues of the last campaign."

Taking a healthy swing at President Truman's fair deal, she said, "I'm tired of deals. I don't care whether they are new, square or fair. Let's throw deals out of the window and give the American people a constitutional government."

"We heard Mr. Truman tell how the 80th congress had 'ruined us' and then, in his state of the union message he said 'the state of the union is good.'"

In Good Shape.

"The state of the union is good, but it would not be if all of Truman's campaign promises were carried out," she added.

Earlier, Mrs. Karl Mundt, wife of Senator Mundt (R-SD) also lashed at President Truman's program and communism.

"To a Pendergast politican," she said, "this may sound like a Fair Deal, but I consider it the worst misdeal ever dealt this country."

She urged republican women to take up the fight against communism on the local level.

"The republican party is the only organized political party of any size that is fighting communism, but occasionally the loyal opposition turns into a cowardly capitulation," she said.

"I know of no better place to strengthen the backbone of the party than out here on these prairies where we have faced blizzards, grasshoppers, depression, drouth, dust storms, and democrats — unafraid," she concluded.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

mon people. Ninety per cent of our population are common people and they will get what they want eventually. Now it is a great blunder for us to call every proposal that is intended to improve the condition of the common people "just a step toward communism, or socialism." That expression really turns the mass of people toward socialism. For instance, if socialized medicine is really a step to relieve common people, our calling is socialism or communism or any other name is not going to change people's minds; or claiming that it is not fair to our medical men is not the way to combat the idea. We must prove that common people are going to fare much better by keeping medical care in private hands.

Every law, every advancement that has been made since the cave man came out of his cave could be called a step toward socialism. Why should we call on the state to protect our lives or our property—it leads toward socialism Let every man take a club or a gun and protect his own property. We should not have asked county or state to build our roads, let everyone build his own, if he wants any, and save taxes. Why did we ask the state to educate our children—that sounds like socialism. Really, many leading men were against it; the idea of educating all of the common people sounded foolish to them. Who would be the workers—just let those who were financially able send their children to England for an education, and that would provide a sufficient number of educated people. But the common people finally won out, and they always will eventually; so we must always think and plan what is good for common people if we expect our form of government to endure. If selfish and private interests are always going to fight every enterprise that is a benefit to the common people they make communists. What few people Russian agents convert do not amount to anything, but what our government does can convert thousands of people right here one way or the other.

M. S. DAILY.

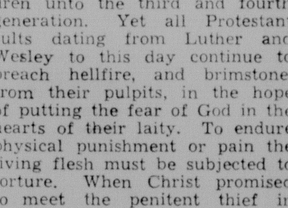

FEAR, NOT LOVE.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Not long ago a vicar in an English church declared in a pulpit oration that he could no longer believe or accept a God so revengeful that he could visit the sins of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation. Yet all Protestant cults dating from Luther and Wesley to this day continue to preach hellfire, and brimstone, from their pulpits, in the hope of putting the fear of God in the hearts of their laity. To endure physical punishment or pain the living flesh must be subjected to torture. When Christ promised to meet the penitent thief in Paradise — not "heaven" — He certainly did not meet the physical fleshly body of the thief still nailed to the cross, and furthermore it was not until after Christ's resurrection from the dead that we find his resurrected spiritual body passing through closed doors. If the laity of the church, both Catholic and Protestant, are to be scared into a state of salvation through fear of eternal physical punishment by fire, then religion is based on fear, and not love. Religion is sure confusing. Won't someone please explain?

Rotary Club To Hear Review Of U. S. Air Power

. . . By Harry Stowers

An evaluation of the congressional program to rebuild the nation's air defenses will be made by Harry Stowers, Aircraft Industries association official, in an April [illegible] address to the Rotary club at the Cornhusker hotel.

Stowers, assistant to the president of the association, will outline in detail the current U. S. air power strength. He also will discuss our national security and the effect on the aircraft industry of jet and rocket engines.

Prior to 1945, Stowers was executive advisor to the manufacturing section of Lockheed which followed a sales executive position with the Studebaker corporation.

He has been active for many years in personnel management of various firms and is the author of "Management Can Be Human."

Stowers is also one of Rotary International's principal speakers on the annual institute of international understanding.

High Spending Level Blamed For Continued Excise Taxes

. . . Administration Leaders Worried Says Curtis

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Moves to abolish or reduce some excise taxes have bogged down in the house ways and means committee, and Rep. Curtis (R-Neb) blames "the high spending level proposed in President Truman's program."

"Congress is being swamped with requests for excise tax repeal, Curtis said, "and administration leaders are worried. Their problem is how to cut the taxes and at the same time maintain the high-spending level."

Dozens of bills to repeal or cut excise taxes have been introduced in congress, but a spokesman for the ways and means committee, in which all tax legislation must originate, told reporters recently "no action is planned on this legislation in the foreseeable future."

'Somebody Must Foot Bill.'

Rep. Curtis, who is a member of the committee, said:

"During the war excise taxes were upped sharply not only to raise money but to curb the public's buying of items on short supply. Now the war is over and shortages are disappearing but government spending goes on and on and somebody must foot the bill."

Excise taxes presently bring in about $8,000,000,000 annually. Repeal of the increases voted during the war would clip $2,500,000,000 from that amount.

Advocates of tax reduction assert that the estimated revenue loss does not take into account possible increases in revenue that might result from more sales if taxes were dropped.

Question 'Luxury' Tag.

They also question the accuracy of the "luxury" tag hung on some of the taxed items.

Here are a few:

Telephone and telegram, tax rates upped from 10 per cent to 25 per cent.

Train and bus fares, tax 15 per cent as compared to a prewar five per cent.

Cosmetics, including baby powder and oil, 20 per cent.

Freight shipments, three per cent.

Admission tax (including those on religious, community and charitable affairs), 20 per cent. Before the war it was 10 per cent.

The telephone, telegram, and transportation items, Curtis said, are under heaviest fire.

"It is expected," he said, "that the present 3 per cent tax on freight shipments will be one of the first items considered in removing or lowering the excise tax. Farm and business groups, as well as the railroads, are pressing for an end to the levy."

The passenger fare tax, levied during the war, was aimed at reducing travel on overloaded facilities but the number of passengers has diminished and railroad officials think it has outlived its original purpose.

"Senators and representatives," Curtis said, "also are being swamped with requests from 'phone customers. Many contend that the use of telephones and telegraph cannot be called a luxury and that the rates on these services should be one of the first reductions considered."

Gen. Chuikov Takes Over In Germany

Military Governor Of The Soviet Zone

(By the Associated Press)

The Moscow radio announced that army Gen. Vassily I. Chuikov, wartime hero of Stalingrad and Lublin, has become military governor of the Soviet zone of Germany, succeeding Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky.

Sokolovsky was promoted to principal assistant to the new minister of Soviet armed forces, Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky.

The announcement of the changes, like others in the continuing shakeup of top leve. Soviet officials, gave no explanation.

Purse Snatcher Escapes With $13

A youthful purse snatcher is being sought by Lincoln police today for robbery from a woman between E and F on Eleventh street Tuesday night.

Velma Peckham, 1125 South Eleventh, told police she was walking south on the west side of Eleventh when a young man grabbed her purse and ran down an alley.

Miss Peckham, who ran after the youth for about 100 feet, said he threw down her purse after removing the billfold as he ran. The billfold contained $13 and identification.

The youth was described as having brown hair, about 16 or 18 years old, and weighing about 155 pounds.

Don Horning, N.U. Graduate, Builds New Type Wind Tunnel

. . . At University Of California

Completion of a new type supersonic wind tunnel built and operated for the University of California at Berkeley by Don O. Horning, formerly of Lincoln and a graduate of the University of Nebraska in 1934, has been widely publicized recently by California newspapers.

The San Francisco Chronicle earlier this month carried pictures of Horning and the new tunnel which will be used by the university to test aircraft parts.

The tunnel stimulates various conditions found at high altitudes. Air is exhausted from the test chamber and into this vacuum compressed gases from the intake chamber are shot through a plastic nozzle. This results in a stream of speed with velocities achieved to date that are 2.7 times faster than sound. The objective is to reach velocities four times the speed of sound.

Test Aircraft Parts.

Objects to be run through tests are put in front of the nozzle. Observers are able to watch their behavior through a porthole in the test chamber. Vision is further aided by a high voltage screen which makes gases glow and illuminates course.

Observers are able to regulate the rate of air flow, change position of the models, adjust temperatures and pressures and take measurements by means of a control panel on the intake chamber.

Light gases such as nitrogen in place of denser types are used to simulate rarified conditions at high altitudes inside the chamber. After serving their purpose in the chamber gases are led off through an exhaust outlet.

Horning is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He completed a year of graduate work following his graduation in 1934.

Mrs. Horning is the former Margaret Walker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George H. Walker, 3000 Stratford.

Nationwide Tour Of 'World Peace Conference' Falters

. . . 18 Iron Curtain Visitors Told To Go Home

NEWARK, N. J.—(AP)—Stripped of its Russian star attractions by state department action, a projected nationwide tour of "world peace conference" delegates faltered today.

The state department ruling in effect told 18 iron curtain visitors to go home, now that they have completed their mission to last week end's Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace in New York City.

Despite the decision, author Millard Lampell said last night "This tour will go on." Lampell acted as master of ceremonies at the first of the proposed series of "no more war" rallies here. Other speakers indicated the tour will be carried out.

A proposed itinerary listed New Haven, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Detroit, St. Louis, Denver and Los Angeles.

The state department said the U. S. visas of the communist delegates were good only for the New York meeting.

A conference spokesman in New York said a telegram had been sent to Secretary of State Dean Acheson asking him to remove the order.

The department has maintained the New York gathering was designated as a sounding board for communistic propaganda—a charge denied by the sponsors.

The Council of Arts, Sciences and Professions, sponsors of the tour, hastily reshuffled last night's program. The order banning the communists was issued less than 12 hours before the rally began.

Gone from the list was the rally's heralded star feature—Russian composer Dmitri Shostakovich.

The audience of some 3,000 persons were told the government action. The house lights were dimmed. Then a single spot light shone on the empty piano.

Fritz Kuhn Will Seek To Regain His Citizenship

. . . 'FINDS GERMANS ROTTEN'

MUNICH—(INS)—Fritz Kuhn, ex-fuehrer of the disbanded German-American bund will ask the U. S. Supreme court to restore his citizenship because he "never believed Germans could be so rotten."

Kuhn told International News Service that he will soon appeal to the high bench. The deported bund leader said he has "instructed his attorney to initiate proceedings in the near future."

"If I am not permitted to go to the United States, I will be happy to go to darkest Africa, as long as the people leave me alone. I am sick and tired of being notorious."

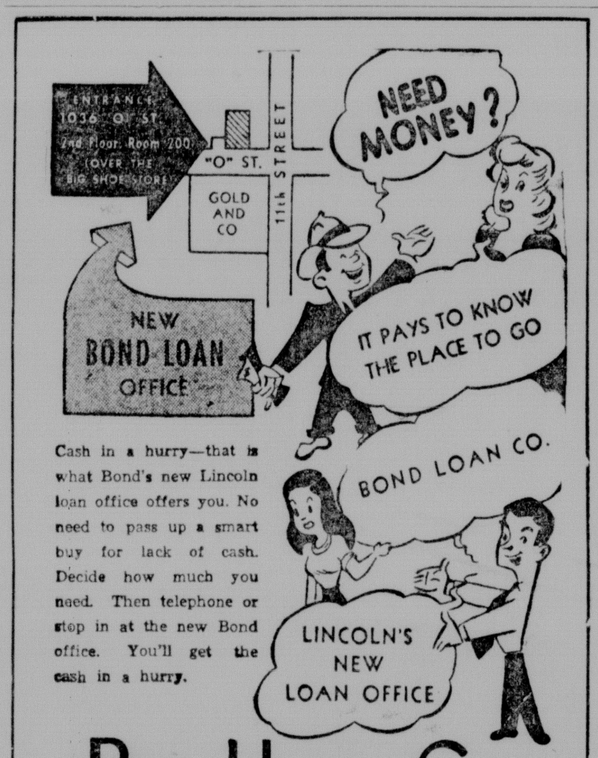

Kuhn, who recently was released from internment, said he has searched unsuccessfully for a job for some time and added that he would have to go on relief unless he found employment soon.

Doane Switches To English Diplomas

CRETE, Neb.—(AP)—It won't take a Latin professor to explain to Doane college's 1949 seniors whether they have graduated or not.

The executive committee of the college's board of trustees has authorized Mrs. Edna Miller, Doane registrar, to have all diplomas printed in English.

This year's class will be the first in the history of the school not to receive a Latin certificate.

Action Delayed On Airport Requests

The state aeronautics commission has delayed action on requests from North Platte and Omaha for airport improvements.

Omaha had asked $100,000 to aid in repairing asphalt runways, taxi-ways and an apron at the municipal airport.

North Platte sought $25,000 to help build a $90,000 airport administration building.

However, the commission did approve Fairbury's request for $7,000 for runway surfacing.

The commission also approved a request for $3,500 for airport construction at Shelton and allocated $7,000 for a similar project at Hay Springs and $5,500 for one at Wallace. Minden's request that an $8,600 balance in the 1949 allocation be used to construct an airport administration building also got a commission okay.

Snowstorm Damage To Northern Trees Less Than Expected

Fewer trees in northern Nebraska were damaged from last winter's heavy snowstorms than expected, according to Extension Forester Earl G. Maxwell of the University of Nebraska, who made a recent survey of the area.

Some shelterbelts, Maxwell said, will look ragged for several years, but the trees will not die if given the proper care. The extension forester reported much interest in tree planting in the five-county area he surveyed. Ranchers and farmers, he said, want the trees for livestock protection, having learned the value of the shelterbelts from last winter's storms.

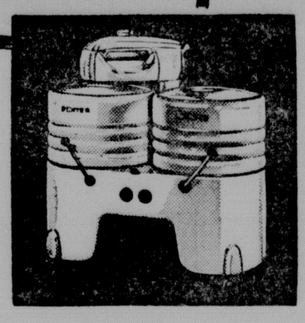

Maxwell said Cherry county has indicated the greatest interest in tree planting this year. More than 100,000 Clarke-McNary seedlings have been ordered by ranchers in that area.

School Salary Publication Bill To Floor

Called 'Healthy Thing' By Prohs

The legislature's education committee Tuesday sent to the floor a bill requiring school boards to publish a list of all salary payments of teachers and other employes, over the opposition of Fairbury, Scotia and Valley school officials.

Said introducer, Sen. Otto Prohs, Gering, "I think people on the outside are entitled to know what is happening. This bill will be a healthy thing for the schools."

Says Would Humiliate Teachers.

But the school officials argued that publication of salaries will "humiliate" teachers, lower their morale and discourage young people from entering the teaching profession.

Fairbury Superintendent W. E. Scott declared, "teachers don't care to have their salaries paraded before the public."

The committee also reported out LB 340 to permit the University of Nebraska to establish a contributory plan of retirement benefits for faculty members and employes; LB 413 to change the procedure for condemning land for school purposes, and LB 414 to eliminate the provision that the board of educational lands and funds may grant easements over school lands for highways.

The committee killed LB 289 to give the state normal board authority to condemn necessary land for normal schools and LB 383 to permit a school district to purchase a house for the superintendent.

$60 Fine Given On Driving Charge

Roy B. Harley, 67, 630 South Eighteenth, pleaded guilty to a city charge of drunk and driving Tuesday and was fined $60 and costs with his drivers license suspended for six months by Municipal Judge Edward C. Fisher.

According to police, Harley was arrested Monday afternoon on K street between Eighteenth and Nineteenth after being involved in a traffic accident. The records stated that Harley was driving West on K and his car swerved across the street and struck a parked car.

Re-Districting School Measure Is Near Passage

There were signs Wednesday that the state legislature was ready to give its approval to a school re-districting bill.

The measure which provides "home rule" in deciding whether districts should be changed was advanced from select file to the committee for enrollment in review engrossment Tuesday after a motion that the bill be indefinitely postponed lost.

Senator Hal Bridenbaugh, Dakota City, made the motion to kill the bill but the motion was over-ruled by an overwhelming vote of 26 against to 6 for. Eleven senators did not vote. Motion to advance was passed on a voice vote.

Cut In Motor Oil Prices Made By Continental

PONCA CITY, Okla.—A reduction in its branded motor oil prices was announced today by Continental Oil company, effective in all of its marketing areas.

On its premium grade of motor oil the reduction to both wholesale jobbers and retail dealers ranges from 10 to 13 cents a gallon, varying with package sizes.

On its secondary grade similar reductions also were announced, although varying in some details.

See Reduction to Consumer.

Continental expects that these reductions to the wholesale and retail trade will prompt reductions to the consumer and result in a selling price to the motoring public of 35 cents a quart for its premium oil and 30 cents a quart for its secondary grade.

A Continental spokesman explained that the current competitive situation in the lubricating oil market prompted these reductions. He stated that reductions in prices of base lubricating oil stocks, which have been occurring gradually but steadily for a number of months, have now totaled an amount which justifies this action.

The three Nebraska hydro districts denied having a wage dispute with union electrical workers Tuesday. They asked the state court of industrial relations to dismiss the petition of Local 739 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Of This, And That, And Other Things

WE, UNLIKE THE WALRUS, cannot talk of shoes and ships and sealing-wax, and cabbages and kings—But we can discuss the activities of movie stars and their mothers—Wellesley girls, homecomers, travelers, and other things we believe to be infinitely more interesting than the topics offerd by Mr. Walrus—

• • •

OUR WELLESLEY GIRLS include Miss Mary Aitken, who arrives home on Sunday to spend a week's spring holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William I. Aitken — and Miss Aitken's two spring-vacation house guests, Miss Heidi Ames of Upper Mt. Clair, N. J., and Miss Winifred Sorg of Shot Hills, N. J.—all Wellesley classmates.

On Tuesday, complimenting the visitors, Mrs. Aitken will entertain informally at luncheon at the University club.

IN TOWN FOR A Monday-to-Wednesday visit is Mrs. Ruth Brugh, mother of the cinema star, Robert Taylor, who is the house guest of the late Dr. Brugh's aunt, Mrs. Edna D. Dame.

Mrs. Brugh flew to Beatrice with her son who, incidentally, spent one evening in Lincoln—Mr. Taylor then returned to California, but left his mother in Nebraska for a longer visit. She will leave this evening for Colorado Springs, and will return to her west coast home from there.

Honoring Mrs. Brugh, Mrs. Boyd Raynor entertained a small group of guests at luncheon today at the University club.

IT'S A MAN'S WORLD — 'tis said—But is it?

The powers that be at the Lincoln Country club have been spending considerable sums of money on the club house and the club grounds — the golf course, and a fancy fence. Last season the first floor of the club house was redecorated—there had to be new furniture in the diningroom, a new paint job here, some decorating there. Everyone fared well but the lady golfers—They have been looking at the same old walls, the same old floor, the same old this and that for lo, these many years.

The lady golfers approached the powers that be on the matter of redecorating the ladies' locker rooms.

"Tut, tut," said the powers that be. "Where is the money coming from? We barely have enough to do the necessities. We MUST keep up the greens, we MUST paint the club house, we MUST build a fence—"

But the lady golfers were adamant. They made the powers-that-be a proposition—If the PTB's would furnish the paint and the brushes, the ladies would do their own redecorating.

THE FELLOWS took them up on the idea—And the lady golfers still aren't sure whether they really believed the gals would do the work. But they did—and the three rooms they did over really have the professional touch. The room at the bottom of the stairs, for instance, has been done in two shades of green—two walls of dark green, two of light green. A shelf dressing table was built along two walls—covered with chintz suggesting the two shades of green, and completed with glass tops. A motif of white painted flower frame the mirror. The connecting hall between this room and the locker room has been painted in pink and white stripes, with a darker pink canopied ceiling. Dusty pink walls have changed the drab locker room into something glamourous—The lockers themselves have been painted aqua, and the chintz for the two glassed dressing table shelves, again carrying out the color note of the room. In the locker room, as in the small lounge, there are coffee tables and chairs painted to match the decor.

THE CHAIRMEN OF THIS "let's-do-it-ourselves" committee is Mrs. Walter Henrion, who also is chairman of the ladies' golf committee at the LCC—Assisting Mrs. Henrion on the decorating committee are Mrs. E. J. Faulkner, Mrs. Jack Stewart and Mrs. Joe R. Seacrest—The committee, in turn, was assisted in the matter of actual and hard labor, by the thirty or forty women golfers at the club. There still remain a few finishing touches, but the job as a whole, has been completed, and now the locker rooms are in order for the brand new golf season which opens soon—

THE HOMECOMING DEPARTMENT today lists the names of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cline, who returned Tuesday from a month's vacation in California—

AND DUE HOME ON THURSDAY is Mrs. W. E. Hardy, who is returning from Mexico City where she had been spending the winter.

SOMEONE TOLD US THAT Mrs. Ralph Ludwick had gone to New York City where she is spending some time with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. John Folsom.

TAKING A QUICKIE AT the late week calendar we find that Mrs. Bennett Martin will be a luncheon hostess on Friday when she entertains the members of her bridge eightsome. Following luncheon the group will remain at the club for an afternoon of bridge.

Crawford studied at Los Angeles' Otis Art Institute, interrupting his studies in 1927 to enter the studio of Walt Disney, then almost unknown. After a short time there, he went east, winning a scholarship to the Pennsylvania Academy and a Tiffany Foundation Fellowship. In 1937, he received the Bok Fellowship. Crawford enlisted in the army in 1941, doing important and valuable work for the weather division of the army air force. Child-Insurance Bill Is Killed

A bill permitting relatives to take out insurance on their "favorite" child was killed by the legislature's banking and insurance committee Tuesday.

The action came after Bernard Stone, director of insurance, told the committee relatives who want to provide an annuity or other type of insurance for the child can now do so by getting the parents' consent.

Held for a week was legislation (LB 305), changing the obligatory-redemption date on bonds of governmental subdivisions.

McCook Man Is New Head Of Druggists

. . . Ruppert Treasurer

G. E. Allen of McCook was elected president of the Nebraska Pharmaceutical association Tuesday night.

Other officers elected at the association's 66th annual convention at the Cornhusker hotel are: Leonard Powers, Omaha, vice-president; Ed Ruppert of Lincoln, treasurer, and Miss Cora Mae Briggs of Lincoln, who was re-elected executive secretary.

Humphrey Heads Travelers.

Also electing officers Tuesday night was the Allied Drug Travelers association. Robert Humphrey of Omaha is new president of that group and William Sharp of Omaha, secretary - treasurer. Three vice-presidents also were elected. They are: Stanley Pariso, Lincoln; W. F. Alcott, Hastings; and Harry Pilgrim.

Hear Humorous Talk.

More than 300 association members and their wives attending the Tuesday evening banquet heard Col. Jack Major, Paducah, Ky., give his humorous talk on "Women, Taxes and Hogs."

The one-time protege of Irvin S. Cobb said American women are getting more masculine every day. "They said 'give us equal suffrage and we will clean up this nation.' But, he continued, all they did was change the name from "bar" to "cocktail lounge."

About taxes, the humorist said: "This country owes a national debt of $268,000,000,000. Where did they get the money? Out of the thin air? Uh hugh!"

He said that when he sold his hogs he didn't get enough money to "pay for the feed because of the OPU—I mean the OPA."

Chadron Woman Heads Druggist State Auxiliary

Mrs. E. L. Thompson of Chadron was named as president Tuesday at the closing session of the Ladies auxiliary of the Nebraska Pharmaceutical association.

Other officers are:

Mrs. Don Berndt, Minden, first vice-president. Mrs. Leo Weber, Arlington, second vice-president.

Mrs. Morris Fleming, Norfolk third vice-president.

Mrs. Theodore McCosh, Gering, fourth vice-president.

Mrs. Elza Allen, McCook, fifth vice-president.

Mrs. F. H. Bridges, Lincoln secretary.

Mrs. Guy Thompson, West Point, treasurer.

Mrs. Ben Barth of Lincoln outgoing president, presided over the meetings held in connection with the annual convention.

A short memorial service was held during the morning and special recognition was given to past presidents. Preceding the morning meetings, a membership breakfast was held at the Cornhusker.

Two Omaha Dairies Cut Price Of Milk

OMAHA— (AP) — Two dairies yesterday cut the price of standard milk one cent a quart to 18 cents for home delivery. That is the second one cent reduction in a month and drops milk to the October, 1947, level.

The reduction was announced by Alamito and Roberts dairies. T. C. Kinsler of Roberts said the price drop was made in anticipation that dairies will pay a lower price in April.

Kinsler also revealed that Roberts will drop prices of most milk products, such as cream, whipping cream, chocolate milk and other grades of milk, one cent. Skim and buttermilk prices will be unchanged.

Drugless Health!

REGARDLESS of how long you have been a sufferer, and how many medicines you have tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL, the wonderful mineral aid. Feel and enjoy the results one week after you start taking it. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil. NO harmful drugs, NO dope — is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments — highly recommended by the medical profession.

FOR THOUSANDS of years ever since Hipocrates was the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from nutritional anemia, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy see what GEO-MINERAL will do for you.

Amazing Results

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid coddition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of their doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgie. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

Wonder Minerals

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities — poisonous waste — coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

Read What They Say!

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds."

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

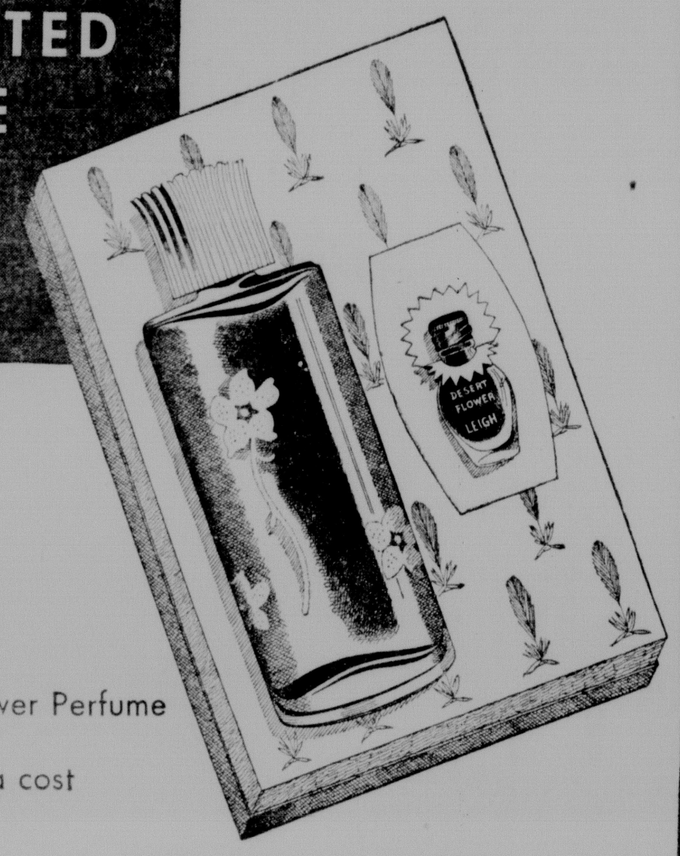

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

Bloomfield Group To Seek Improved Road Conditions

BLOOMFIELD, Neb.—(AP)—A group of Bloomfield businessmen is going to make a trip to Lincoln to seek improved roads in and out of their town. Residents of Bloomfield say that except for farmers, who come in by team, tractor or sometimes walk, the only way to get in and out of the town is by train. All the roads leading into Bloomfield are so deeply mired that they are impassable by auto.

Auto Skids Into Truck On Icy Road

. . . Californians Victims

BRADY, Neb.—(AP)—Nebraska's highway death toll stood at 32 today with the death of a San Francisco couple as the result of an accident near here late yesterday.

Mrs. Charles Barada was killed when the car in which she was riding skidded on the snow-covered pavement of Highway 30 near here and was in collision with a truck. Her husband died while being taken to a hospital in Gothenburg.

Trucker Slightly Hurt.

Bernard W. Berry, 27, Holdrege, was driving the eastbound truck, Deputy Sheriff Bruce Wright said.

Apparently Barada lost control of his car on the ice and snow and drove into the side of the truck, Wright declared. The car was completely demolished.

Berry was only slightly injured and has been released from a Gothenburg hospital.

Nebraska's state highway death toll for the year stands at 32, the state safety council said Wednesday. This compares with 40 fatalities for this time last year. The March, 1949, toll has reached 17.

The death of Phil Heelan, 4, at Arabia, Neb., March 11 has been stricken from the fatality toll as he was killed on private property, the council revealed.

Another City Official Quits At Scottsbluff

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb.—(AP)—A second Scottsbluff city official has left municipal service after charges that he engaged in political activities while on the city payroll.

Dr. N. H. Rasmussen resigned as city physician yesterday with the comment that his interest in good government outweighed the value of his city post.

Councilman Norman Alkire had charged that the doctor was campaigning politically while in the pay of the city. His charge was made in connection with the discharge last week of a policeman.

Cy Cutter was dismissed from the police force on grounds he was engaged in political activity. In a statement, Cutter said he was campaigning for Alkire and four other present city councilmen.

Sunol Keeps High School

12 To One Favor Retaining Program

SUNOL, Neb. — (AP) —By a margin of more than 12 to one, Sunol school district patrons have voted to retain their high school program.

The proposal to discontinue the high school and take the students to a larger school, probably Sidney, was defeated by a vote of 89 to 7. There are only about 125 legal voters in the district.

Supt. O. J. Weymouth of the Sidney schools, who was scheduled to speak at the Monday meeting, at which the vote was taken, was unable to attend because of a school board meeting in Sidney.

Similar Moves.

There have been a number of similar moves discussed throughout Cheyenne county in the past couple of years. Dalton consolidated a number of districts and students are transported into town by bus to attend classes. At Lorenzo, districts in that locality decided to join and send their pupils to the Lorenzo school.

Sidney school officials said they could have accommodated the Sunol students, but it would have crowded the present facilities.

Exercise Bars Old Stuff For Hastings Baby

HASTINGS, Neb. — (AP) — If Terry G. Hiatt of Hastings doesn't grow up to have bulging biceps, it won't be because of a late start in training.

At the age of nine weeks, he can grip a bar with one hand, be pulled up from a reclining position and hang on for several seconds supported only by that hand.

In addition, Terry can hold his body stiff while his father picks him by his feet and head.

Terry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Hiatt, has had half-hour workouts daily since he was five-days old.

Under his mother's direction, he now does 22 different exercises, using three-eighths of an inch sticks as exercise bars.

His mother and father claim he is developed muscularly in the arms, chest and back better than the average man.

Policy In Force For Just An Hour

BEATRICE, Neb.—(AP) — An insurance policy issued here may have set some kind of a record for the short time it was in effect.

An office machine was being moved to the Beatrice National bank. It had to be lowered to a downstairs work room from the street. The property damage insurance in force didn't cover this particular maneuver. So an insurance policy was obtained to cover the equipment while it was being lowered from the sidewalk to the work room.

The job was completed in about an hour without mishap. The policy terminated in one hour.

Four-H Meeting

Increased Funds Would Aid Police Department

Radio Station Is Biggest Need

EARMARK $38,000

(This is the third of a series of six articles by The Lincoln Star explaining in detail how funds proposed by the city charter amendment will be spent if the change is approved by Lincoln voters on April 5.)

BY DALE HOAGLAN.
(City Hall Reporter)

Lincoln is barely a fourth rate city.

That is the decision of fire insurance underwriters when setting rates Lincoln residents and businesses pay for fire protection.

And the city's amount of equipment is just enough to keep Lincoln in its fourth class position, Chief E. P. Feaster told the Committee of 85. Insurance rates would be much higher if the city dropped to fifth class.

Need Fire Station.

The fire department needs $3,500 annually for new hose according to Cobe Venner, director of public welfare and safety. The two mill levy which produces about $20,000 annually for new equipment expires this year. Unless it is continued it will become a budget requirement, Venner says, if the city is to renew its equipment every 12 years.

No funds of the city's added revenue would be spent for the fire department the first year, Venner says. The $20,000 annual amount for new equipment begins the second year and a $25,000 for new fire stations would begin the third.

A new fire station in the vicinity of Thirty-third and South is badly needed, Venner and Feaster agree. Equipment has to travel too great a distance to a fire in that area and traveling takes precious time. The new station would cost about $65,000. Fire station number 4 is in very poor condition and should be replaced at a cost of $40,000, Venner says.

The police department has to have a new FM radio station with new equipment in cruiser cars or go off the air. A Federal Communications Commission order requires the department to have the $15,000 station by January 1, 1950.

The police department needs to spend the balance of the $38,000 it would get the first year, $23,000, modernizing the traffic signal system along O street. Venner says. The system is worn out. The estimated cost of the project is $65,000, work would be distributed over three years.

City Hall Dangerous.

Beginning the second year of the new financial program, the police department would spend $10,000 annually for new traffic signals, Venner says.

The health department under Venner's direction needs an additional $10,000 annually for its operation.

Venner's other big headache is city property.

That department would get $8,000 the first year. Rocks from the cornice on city hall blow loose on windy days and drop to the ground below. Cornice and roof repair would cost about $4,000. Remodeling on the first floor to give more office space would cost $5,000. Plywood partitions are temporarily in use.

The city property department would spend $13,000 the second year converting the city hall's heating plant to gas and rebuilding the distribution system. Currently the city spends $1,200 annually for coal to heat the building. This amount of coal ought to heat the building almost two years, Charlie Saal, superintendent of city buildings, says.

To heat the council chamber for a meeting, the whole building must be heated, or each radiator turned off individually, Saal says.

Another important need at city hall is for safety doors and newer and safer doors and grillwork on the building's old elevator, Saal reports. The elevator itself is safe enough but the carriage ought to have safety doors.

Why spend all this money on city hall repairs when we may have a new city-county building? "We can't just sit here and let the building fall down in the hope that in a few years we might have a new building," Saal says. "Some things need doing now."

Contest Group To Hold Meeting Here

Approximately 75 Nebraskans are expected to attend the fifth semi-annual Goldhuskers Contest association meeting April 2 and 3 at the Lincoln hotel.

The group comprising persons throughout the state who make contests their hobby will open the meeting April 2 with an "early bird" session at 8 p. m.

Sunday's meeting which opens at 10 a. m., will include talks, member contests reports and a noon luncheon.

Mrs. Jack Bruer, Omaha, president will preside.

Bashmore Denies Being Driven From Reclamation Post

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Reclamation Commissioner Michael Straus has released a letter from his predecessor denying that he was driven from office by Straus.

Harry W. Bashore, now in retirement at Mitchell, Neb., wrote to Interior Secretary Krug quoting from a book by Senator Downey (D-Calif), a long-time critic of Straus, and also from testimony by Downey before a senate subcommittee that Straus "practically usurped the jurisdiction of Mr. Bashore and later literally drove him out of office."

"Far from being driven out of office, I was persuaded by Mr. Straus to remain in office," Bashore said.

"During the time that I served as commissioner I made considerable effort to find a man of high caliber to succeed me."

Air Force General Charged

Officials Keep Secret Reasons For Action Against Gen. Bissell

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)—Charges of an unspecified nature have been preferred against Maj. Gen. Clayton L. Bissell, headquarters of the U. S. air force in Europe announced today.

The announcement said the charges are being investigated to determine whether they warrant a trial by court-martial.

It added the charges concern "acts allegedly committed while Bissell was military and air attache at the United States embassy in London from May, 1946, to July, 1948. Air force officials declined to say what the charges were.

In Germany Tuesday.

Officials would not even say what article of war Bissell is accused of violating.

Bissell arrived in Germany yesterday. During the investigation he is being represented by a special counsel, John E. Hughes, an attorney from Chicago and Washington.

The investigation of the charges against him is being made by Maj. Gen. Edwin B. Lyon, the air force announced.

Anonymous Letters.

The air force announced in Washington last Aug. 14 that anonymous letters charging Bissell with "unauthorized transactions" had led to an investigation.

The statement said the accusations made in the unsigned letters were not proved by a preliminary investigation.

It added, however, that Air Secretary Symington had ordered further inquiry.

Bissell at one time commanded the U. S. air force in India and then was brought back to the United States to become assistant chief of the air force staff for intelligence.

Nuclear Ray Blinded Man May Recover

SAN FRANCISCO—(INS)—Dr. Lloyd Smith, young University of California physicist afflicted with "nuclear blindness," was recuperating today from a delicate eye operation.

Surgeons who performed the operation at the University of California hospital in San Francisco said the 26-year-old scientist has "an excellent chance" to recover his sight although he will have to wear heavy glasses.

Smith was one of five physicists who developed eye cataracts while working at the University of Illinois cyclotron in 1943. Neutron rays were blamed for the eye trouble.

Surgeons who operated on Smith said they removed a cataract from the right eye and would operate later on his left eye.

Since the trouble at Illinois, cyclotron workers are protected by shields from the powerful rays.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Dick Schleiger Joins NU Grid

. . . GLASSFORD SEEKING PASSER

By NORRIS ANDERSON

BILL GLASSFORD, Husker gridmaster, is dead serious in his search for a "tall boy who can pass."

He has invited Dick Schleiger, 6-foot, 5-inch basketball letterman, to join the squad Wednesday.

Schleiger, a well-constructed 200-pounder, was a regular end at North high in Omaha, where he was noted mostly for his punting prowess.

Glassford lists Husker passing as "unsatisfactory so far." He is thinking about moving Fullback Gerry Ferguson to quarterback in another attempt to remedy the problem.

Ferguson was one of the top tossers in the state during his prep days at Scottsbluff.

Passing and T-formation quarterback chores this spring have been handled by Kenny Fischer, St. Edward; Frank (Dutch) Meyer, Lincoln; Bruce Bergquist, Lincoln; Del Wiegand, Kearney; Joe Gurnett, Omaha, and Mark Martin, Lincoln.

Wiegand, 1947-48 starter and a T-formation quarterback for three years at Kearney high, has a heavy laboratory schedule that has cut into his available practice time. He is a geology major.

Dick Schleiger

A scrimmage was staged Tuesday amidst rain, fog and two offensive and two defensive units.

A second lineup featured Frank Simon and Don Schneider, ends, Dick Goeglein and Virgil Adle, tackles; Arden Means and Milt Schmidt, guards; Bob Diers, center; Meyer, quarterback; Rich Yost and Ron Clark, halfbacks, and Nick Adduci, fullback.

REIDY REPORTS.

Bob Reidy, 195-pound backfield speedster from Naperville, Ill., reported for the first time. Reidy was a squad member in 1947, but never saw varsity action.

Holder of a :15.2 high hurdle mark in high school, the 20-year old Reidy was rated a promising prospect.

Herb Reese, 1948 tackle letterman reported for the first time. He has been active with the wrestling squad.

George Brown, place-kicking specialist of the Syracuse university team, booted 27 straight conversions last year before missing his opening kick of this season.

Cathedral Cage Future Dimmed By Graduation

By BOB BERKSHIRE.
(Star Sports Staff Member)

LOSSES by graduation will deal a severe blow to next year's Lincoln Cathedral basketball prospects.

All the members of the starting five which Vince Aldrich used for the greater part of the season will graduate from Cathedral this spring.

Only Bill Kryger who filled in for Phil Becker in the latter part of the season will return to aid the Bluebirds on the maples. Becker was sick during the last part of the season and did not play in the district tournament.

However, he still was second high Bluebird point maker with 213 markers to his credit. Even with this high total, Becker was 105 points behind teammate Jack Walentine who completed the season with a 318 point total.

WALENTINE TOPS.

Walentine's 318 points was the highest total posted by a Lincoln high school cager this season.

Besides Becker and Walentine, Aldrich will lose Ken Lohmeier, Jack Beecham, Ernie Truman and Harry Gagen by graduation.

The Bluebirds posted a season record of 13 wins and nine losses.

The Lincoln club went to the finals of the York Catholic tourney, dropping the final tilt, 25-22, to Dwight Assumption.

Cathedral won its first test in the Lincoln Class C state district tournament, beating Louisville, 51-20. The Bluebirds then lost their second game to College View's powerful cage team, 43-29.

Cathedral batted zero against its intracity rivals, losing two games to Teachers high and two to College View.

Bill Kryger, Ted O'Donnell and Jim O'Grady are the best prospects for starting positions on next season's Cathedral team. Kryger, a sophomore, played most of the season with the varsity, while O'Donnell and O'Grady were gaining experience with the reserves.

Other good reserve prospects are Phil Brusnahan, Dick Rice and Jack Trueblood. All of the underclassmen except Kryger saw some service in varsity games but spent most of the season with the reserves.

SPRINT TEAM NAMED BY WEIR—Coach Ed Weir has listed these four sprinters to compete in the Texas Relays Friday and Saturday. Dick Hutton, Auburn (No. 2); Harry Meginnis, Lincoln (No. 19); Al Thomson, Omaha (No. 28) and Fritz Ware, Omaha (No. 9) will bid in the 440 and 880-yard relays as well as the sprint medley event.

Trackmen Fly South

. . . To Texas Relays

Coach Ed Weir will take 10 trackmen to the Texas relays, the first meet for the Huskers since annexing the Big Seven indoor crown.

The Nebraskans will leave Lincoln Thursday, flying to the Austin, Tex., carnival. It will be the first time that any Husker team has flown to an athletic event.

Weir intends to enter the sprint relays, using the combination of Al Thompson, Dick Hutton, Harry Meginnis and Fritz Ware. Three of these men were part of the 440 and 880 relay team which ran second to the Texas university team in last year's Drake relays.

Don Vollertson ran on that team, but in trials this week Fritz Ware edged out Don and Ray Magsamen for the fourth position on the team.

Weir also intends to use another relay combination at the Texas event. He will enter Bill Mountford, Jim Martin, Harold Kopf and Loyal Hurlbert in the two-mile relay.

Leonard Kehl, Big Seven indoor holder in the pole vault, and Dick Piderit, third-place winner in the shot put at the Texas relays last year, will enter their special events.

Weir is pessimistic about the team's probable performance, claiming that the meet comes too early in the season for the Nebraska trackmen. The Texas teams have had the advantage of taking outdoor workouts while the Nebraskans have been forced to remain indoors.

The Southwestern schools will have several outdoor meets under their belt before they reach the Texas relays.

20 Baseball Players Set For NU Jaunt

A traveling squad of 20 players has been named by Coach Tony Sharpe as the Nebraska baseball team prepares to open the season with a six-game southern trip.

Seven pitchers, three catchers, six infielders and four outfielders are in the group.

The Huskers will leave Lincoln Saturday at 8 a. m. and will stay at Oklahoma City, Okla., Saturday night. First games are Monday and Tuesday against Baylor university at Waco, Tex.

Players named are:

Pitchers—Jim Sandstedt, Omaha; Elroy Gloystein, Waco; Jack Helmsing, Omaha; Bob Camp, West Point; Bob Jenkins, Phillipsburg, Kas.; Ernest Behne, Brainard, and Jim Sharp, Omaha.

Catchers—Dil Blatchford, Maskell; Tom Novak, Omaha; Willard Branson, Stanton.

Infielders—Bob Schleiger, Omaha; Hobe Hays, Lincoln; Bob Grogan, Lincoln; Bill Denker, Elkhorn; Don Hays, Lincoln, and Bob Bull, Elkhorn.

Outfielders—Bob Cerv, Weston; Harlan Powley, Pender; Fritz Hegwood, Omaha, and Shirley Matthews, Natick, Mass.

Bonus Players Get Experience

CINCINNATI— (AP)—Optioning of bonus players during their first year will apply only to those signed after March 31, says Walter Mulbry, secretary-treasurer of baseball.

He explained the bonus rule change Tuesday after the impression got around that the current crop of bonus players could be farmed out for a year if they had not already played a season of professional ball.

A man is tagged as a bonus player if he is paid $6,000 or more to sign a contract. Under the old rule, he could not be sent down for more experience.

"They would have to be signed on or after April 1 to be eligible for option," Mulbry said.

The new rule also provides that if a team which signs a bonus player seeks waivers on him, the club claiming the player also may option him out for the year.

Baseball men expressed belief, however, it seemed unlikely a team which signed a bonus player would ask waivers on him at least until after it had used up the year of minor league experience.

BLIMP TO RASSLE

Martin Levy, better known as "The Blimp," will throw his 640 pounds into a six-man rassle royal to be staged at the fair grounds arena next Monday night.

Training Camp Briefs

BRAVES-REDS.

BRADENTON, Fla.—(AP)—Big John Sain, 20-game winner for the past three seasons, went the full nine-inning distance for the first time this spring Tuesday as his Boston Braves subdued the Cincinnati Reds, 8-3.

Sain's mastery was virtually complete. He toyed with the Reds for six innings, granting but two scattered hits. In the seventh they tied together three more, capped by "Red" Stallcup's triple, to score a pair. In the ninth, an error by Bob Elliott put their final run abroad and that scored on Stallcup's long fly to center.

SENATORS-TIGERS.

LAKELAND, Fla.—(AP)—The Washington Senators clouted lefthander Ted Gray for nine hits and six runs in the first three innings Tuesday to wallop the Detroit Tigers 7 to 2 in an exhibition baseball game in 90-degree heat before 615 fans.

Rae Scarborough, Washington pitcher, gave up six Tiger hits in his five innings he pitched. Rookie righthander Paul Calvert worked the last four frames without yielding a hit.

RED SOX-LOUISVILLE.

SARASOTA, Fla.—(AP)—The Red Sox irregulars cleared their three game Florida series against their Louisville cousins by winning 6 to 2 Tuesday behind Willard Nixon, who hurled three-hit, no-run ball for the first six innings. John Hofmann walked six men in the last three innings, in which Louisville scored its two runs.

The veteran Bobby Doerr of the Sox, slow in getting into playing shape, performed brilliantly afield and knocked in two runs in the third with a sharp single to left.

BROWNS-GIANTS.

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(AP)—Johnny Mize's booming bat wasn't enough to make up for the slack in the New York Giants' pitching Tuesday and the St. Louis Browns buried the Polo Grounders, 22 to 9.

Mize clouted two homers, but his stickwork was overshadowed by the Brownies' Paul Lehner who also poled a couple of circuit blows—one a grand slammer off Ray Poat—good for seven runs.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the New York Yankees, 3-1, Tuesday behind the four-hit pitching of Cloyd Boyer, Ray Yochim and Clarence Beers.

Boyer hurled one-hit shutout ball for the first six innings as the Cards handed the Yanks their fourth straight defeat and clinched the annual exhibition series between the two teams. St. Louis has won four of six games, with one more to be played.

With Manager Lou Boudreau and most of the regulars enroute from San Diego, Mickey Vernon and Kenny Keltner were the only veterans available for duty.

Don Johnson scored the winning run in the seventh when a roller off the bat of Cub Pitcher Walt Dubiel bounced over Shortstop Fred Marsh's head for a single.

Ailing DiMaggio Makes 1st Bid

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio, ailing New York Yankee star, is slated to make his first start of the season Wednesday when the Yanks entertain the Cincinnati Reds.

DiMaggio will open in centerfield and play from three to five innings, depending on how he feels. The Yanks $90,000 a year outfielder, is bothered with a sore right heel. The Yanks lost their annual series to the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards beat them 3-1, Tuesday for their fourth win in the seven game set.

Terry Brennan New Mt. Carmel Grid Coach

CHICAGO — (AP) — Terry Brennan, star halfback at Notre Dame for the last four years, has been appointed head football coach at Chicago's Mt. Carmel Catholic high school.

The Rev. Terence Fitzgerald, the school's athletic director, said Brennan, who graduated in January, has signed a one year contract. Brennan, who is 21 and whose home is in Milwaukee, succeeds Bob McBride, who resigned recently to return to Notre Dame as an assistant coach.

Novick Boosts Chances

Veteran Catcher To Play With A's Again; Scrap For Second Mitt Job

(Special to The Star)

MOULTRIE, Ga.—At this early date it appears that catching is one department which will cause the Lincoln A's little worry as Manager Jimmy DeShong prepares his team for the Western league season.

Walt Novick.

Presence of veteran Walt Novick in the Georgia camp promises the A's a tested and approved backstop. Novick had been expected to take over a managerial post with a Philadelphia Athletic farm team this season, but has decided to give the class A Western circuit another whirl.

He was a valuable clutch hitter last season despite a .249 batting average. His biggest role with the A's this year will be that of encouraging and steadying the young hurlers with the team.

The 27-year-old backstop will have support from one of two other catchers in camp.

Wilmer Schantz, older brother of Pitcher Bobby Schantz, is back again after a year at Kewanee, Ill. The 6-foot, 160-pounder hit .282 with the Illinois club last season. He is 22 years old.

Jim Vojcsik, who was with the Lincoln A's through the latter portion of the 1948 season, is also bidding for a Lincoln berth. Vojcsik compiled a meager .213 batting average in 22 games with the A's last season. He also is 22 years old.

Of the two, Schantz is expected to win the second string position. More power at the plate and more aggressiveness behind the plate give him the edge.

Brutal Cold Hurts Sox

. . . In Training

CHICAGO—(AP) — Weather conditions in Southern California this spring, says General Manager Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox, have been "brutal," and the Sox players, especially the pitchers are not in good shape.

"We have a lot of colds and sniffles on the squad," Lane said Tuesday after he arrived from the White Sox training base at Pasadena, Calif. "I was shivering in an overcoat at Pasadena Monday."

"The (Chicago) Cubs at Los Angeles and the (St. Louis) Browns at Burbank are just about in the same boat as the Sox," Lane said. He added, however, that the Pittsburgh Pirates were "sheltered from high winds" at their training camp at San Bernardino.

Lane said this spring was exceptional for California weather. He added the White Sox are not thinking of changing training bases.

There was no immediate comment on Lane's remarks on the California weather from officials at Pasadena. Most camp followers, however, thought weather conditions generally in California were above par for baseball training.

The Browns have lost only one hour in 26 days of practice. No complaints have been made by Manager Charlie Grimm of the Cubs or Manager Bill Meyer of the Pirates.

One observer commented: "Perhaps this is a matter of blaming the weather for a lack of pitchers." Another said: "Maybe Mr. Lane got out one morning on the wrong side of his blanket."

Iowa Boxer Badly Hurt

SAN JOSE, Calif.—(AP)—Billy Cornwall, 25-year-old lightweight fighter from Los Angeles and Des Moines, was knocked out Tuesday night, was unconscious and in critical condition Wednesday.

Cornwall, who weighs 138 pounds, was tagged with a straight right to the chin by Tote Martinez, also 138, of Stockton, in the ninth round of their scheduled 10-round bout.

Dropped by the blow, Cornwall struck his head on the mat with a thud which was heard throughout the auditorium. He was rushed to O'Connor hospital here when he failed to revive and was pronounced in critical condition from brain concussion. He is being treated by Dr. Anthony Badami.

Four hours after the bout, at 4 a. m. CST, the hospital reported he still was unconscious and in very critical condition.

A pre-fight favorite Tuesday night, Cornwall, who is fighting out of Los Angeles now, was billed as lightweight champion of Iowa. He has fought 32 professional matches, winning 28, losing two decisions and being knocked out twice.

There had been no knockdowns prior to the punch which felled Cornwall but Martinez was rated as having a slight edge on points.

Fish Suffocate In Fremont Lakes

Heavy ice layers over three state lakes near Fremont apparently brought on the death of thousands of fish by suffocation during the winter.

This was the report released Tuesday by Glen Foster of the state game commission.

Between three and four thousand black bass, crappies, blue gills, catfish and carp have been found dead.

Before this discovery spring and summer fishing prospects in the Fremont lakes were outstanding. Most of the fish were found in lake No. 8 west of Fremont. Others were found in lakes 4 and 5 near Fremont.

Importance Of School Health Is Emphasized

At Meeting Of Education Leaders

The teaching of health is as important as any other subject taught in schools, Dr. Fred Long, Lincoln-Lancaster health director said Wednesday.

Dr. Long addressed an all-day meeting of Nebraska college health education instructors and representatives of elementary and secondary schools at the Cornhusker hotel.

The group met to discuss the Nebraska community health program sponsored by the state departments of health, public instruction, and assistance and child welfare.

It doesn't do "much good" to teach children the three "Rs" and then have them "end up in ill health," he said.

Lists Four Factors.

Success of health programs at the elementary and secondary level depend on four major factors for success, Dr. Long said. They are:

1. The health program must be a co-operative program between health departments and individual schools.
2. Schools must be independent and self-controlled.
3. Both health department and individuals must be competent to teach the teachers in health education, to assist in setting up health programs, and to furnish material and speakers.
4. The reception of the health department personnel by the school authorities.

Miss Dorothy Swisshelm, chief of the state division of child welfare, urged that schools and county welfare departments join together to co-ordinate health education and welfare activities in communities.

Urges Welfare Councils.

She suggested that schools and welfare departments "take the leadership" and form community welfare councils so all activities can be better co-ordinated.

During the morning session, a group discussion was held on the required college health course for teachers with the aim of making the course more practical. No definite conclusions were reached and additional meetings will be held to discuss the subject further, Vernon E. Hungate said.

Five school superintendents also reported on the progress of the health program in their own schools.

They were Stuart Baller, Wayne; Wayne Marshall, Loomis; H. A. Schroeder, Chadron; A. V. Grass, Tecumseh; and Lester H. Reid, Dorchestr.

Bill Taxing Credit Groups Is Advanced

. . . By Legislature

The legislature Wednesday advanced from general file a bill providing for state taxation of production credit associations.

It is LB 220 which would put a tax on eight mills per dollar of gross earnings on the associations when they become exempt from federal organization laws.

Under the present federal law the associations are exempt from state taxation so long as they are indebted to the federal government.

The bill originally called for a four mill tax. This was amended by the revenue committee to call for 12 mills. An amendment from the floor by Sen. Ed Hoyt made it eight mills.

8 Mill Levy.

Sen. Ray Babcock expressed the opinion that the legislature was premature in passing such legislation, but Sen. Don Hanna said seven assocaitions have already paid off federal loans.

Associations had informed their senators of their objections to the 12 mill levy which they said was more than building and loan associations paid, but reluctantly accepted the 8 mill figure.

It was a slow morning with the senate grinding through only three bills on general file. They were LB 182, a long measure dealing with religious corporations on which action was laid over, and LB 251 an equally long measure on group insurance.

The insurance bill sets up regulations and standards for writing group covrage.

Kansan Released After Questioning In Auto Fatality

. . . No Inquest

Driver of the car involved in a fatal accident Monday was released Tuesday afternoon from city jail where he had been held for questioning.

County Attorney Frederick Wagener said "there appears to be no criminal negligence on the part of Clinton Detrixhe," 20, of Ames, Kas.

He added that he had checked the stories of Detrixhe and his companion, Kenneth Cleveland, 22, Concordia, Kas., and found them the same in every detail except speed.

Detrixhe was driving one of the cars in a two-car collision which killed Mintie Schmidt, 701year-old farmer of near Lincoln, on the Havelock overpass, Seventieth street and Highway 6.

Cleveland was reported resting comfortably Wednesday at a local hospital.

Wagener said Detrixhe told him Schmidt stopped at the pavement and then pulled out in front of the Kansas car. Wagener said the sign is about 30 feet from the pavement.

Here Since 1881.

Born in Saxon, Germany, July 6, 1879, Mr. Schmidt came to the United States with his parents in 1881. He had lived in the vicinity of Havelock since that time.

Mr. Schmidt was a member of the Havelock Methodist church, George Washington lodge No. 250, A. F. & A. M., I. O. O. F. No. 244 and the Rebekah lodge, No. 150.

Surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Ida Soukup, Mrs. Anna Gross, Mrs. Dora Eberhardt, all of Lincoln, and Mrs. Louise Morgan, Phillipsburg, Kas., and four brothers, Louie, Julius, John and Otto, all in Canada.

Stocks Active; Little Change

NEW YORK—(AP)—Fast action developed in the stock market today but prices failed to get very far either way from the previous close.

The new margin requirement of 50 per cent cash went into effect today. The market's first response yesterday to news of the cut to 50 from 75 per cent was one of the sharpest advances in the past year.

Faint rising tendencies appeared for a time today but there was no follow-through. Price changes either way were mostly a point or less.

Big blocks of stock changed hands at the opening and for a time the ticker tape could not keep up with actual transactions. The lag amounted to an extreme of three minutes but lasted only 10 minutes or so.

Brokerage houses reported that orders to buy were coming in from all over the country. Public interest in the market as a result of the margin cut, they said, ran high.

Despite this demand, according to informed sources, substantial short selling kept prices from rising. In addition, profit taking on the heels of yesterday's rise appeared.

Several firms reported that many of their customers who owned stock either outright or on a 75 per cent margin had switched over to the 50 per cent margin, thus freeing money which was put back into the market.

Only a very limited amount of new business it was added, had been attracted by the margin change.
